FROM SIX TO EIGHT SLAIN

Frequent Clashes Occur Between Mannheim Police And Food Rioters

Mannheim, Germany—From six to eight persons are reported dead and many others wounded in Wednesday's food riots in Mannheim during which frequent clashes occurred between the demonstrators and the police.

WOMEN ATTACK OFFICE
Gelsenkirchen, Ruhr Valley—A mob of women attacked and badly damaged the administration building of the Mannesmann Iron works Thursday. The assault was in protest against non-payment of wages due the women's husbands.

The women also raided food shops and afterward visited nearby farms, searching for food. In one instance, seizing a peasant's cow, pigs and chickens.

REDS CAUSE CONCERN
Berlin—The frequency of rioting in Saxony and the defiant stand taken by the Socialist-Communist minority at Dresden are causing so much concern here that the central government is prepared to send additional troops into Saxony should the situation require them.

The Saxons on Wednesday night rejected a motion of lack of confidence in the government by a vote of 48 to 45.

SOCIETY LAGS IN PROGRESS' MARCH

Carroll Chief Says Invention Far Ahead Of Social Development

Esu Claire—Society is suffering from growing pains, according to Dr. W. A. Genfield, president of Carroll College, Waukesha, Wis., speaking before the Northwestern Teachers' association here Thursday.

"The world just now is running faster in the development of material resources than in the knowledge of how to use them," said the educator. "We are making a more swift pace in mechanical invention than we are in social organization. Social institutions of the world have not kept pace with the world's material progress."

The next fifty years, Dr. Genfield said, probably will not keep pace with the fifty years that have passed in matters of mechanical invention. In the changing periods of history, he recalled to mind the age of feudalism, the period of chivalry, the age of crusades, the era of religious awakening, the period of political revolution and the century of modernism.

"The next step," the speaker concluded, "will be an attempt of the human mind to define and create right social attitudes, correct social organizations, harmonious, contented, prosperous social groups and human societies."

RAIL MAGNATE SAYS RATES CAN'T BE CUT

By Associated Press
Philadelphia, Pa.—Freight rate reductions are impossible because of the "new earnings" of railroads, A. J. County, vice president of the Pennsylvania road declared Wednesday night in an address before the Philadelphia Bankers' association. If reductions are given to help one class, he said, there must be paid by the rest of the nation.

Although Mr. County did not mention the conference of President Coolidge and Sam Rea, president of the Pennsylvania railroad at which Mr. Coolidge was reported to have suggested that carrying charges for export wheat be reduced, his remarks were construed by some as bearing on the conference.

SHIP, THOUGHT LOST, ARRIVES AT SUPERIOR

Frontenac Held Up On Lakes By Smoke Of Forest Fires And Dense Fog

By Associated Press
Superior—Overdue 23 hours, the steamer Frontenac of the Cleveland-Cliffs fleet steamed into Superior harbor at 5 P. M. Wednesday and docked.

Fear had been expressed that a mishap had befallen the vessel. It was due to arrive at 7 P. M. Tuesday. No word of the location of the boat on Lake Superior had been received by dock officials since the steamer had departed from Fort William early Tuesday morning.

Captain P. E. Murray, veteran lake skipper in command of the Frontenac, stated on his arrival that the boat was held up in Thunder bay due to heavy smoke from forest fires, a low fog and a severe rain storm.

"The situation in Thunder bay was the worst I have ever experienced in the 37 years I have sailed the Great Lakes," declared Captain Murray. "After leaving the Canadian port we were only a short distance in Thunder bay when it was apparent that we could go no further, and to turn back would have been equally perilous."

The Frontenac will clear the harbor for Cleveland at an early hour Thursday, according to O. A. Berg, deputy customs collector at Superior.

SEEKS DIVORCE FROM MAN FREED FROM STATE PRISON

By Associated Press
Oshkosh—Mrs. Anna Chapin of Weyauwega, Wis., is seeking a divorce in county court here, from her husband, Eugene Chapin, who was sent to the state prison at Waupun in 1920 for a three year term, being convicted of arson. He served most of his sentence and was recently released. Judgment was postponed, pending settlement of a question over the division of real estate in the village of Weyauwega.

KLAN PARSON ARRESTED FOR DRUNKEN DRIVING

Atlanta, Ga.—The Rev. Caleb Ridley, known as the Imperial Kludd of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan was subjected to appear in police court here Thursday to answer charges of being "drunk and operating an automobile" following his arrest Wednesday. After spending several hours in a police station cell the Imperial Kludd was released on bond of $500.

Being locked up the Imperial Kludd declared that he had driven out into the country where he was accosted by a man who offered to give him some whiskey. He stated he accepted the offer and took a drink. Following his release the minister denied the charge that he was drunk and that two bottles of whiskey were found in his machine.

"I was not drunk," stated the Imperial Kludd official. "The fact is that I had a half pint bottle containing about two tablespoons of liquor and I had taken one drink before my arrest."

The Rev. Mr. Ridley is well known in Klan circles throughout the nation and reputed to have lectured extensively on the knights of the Ku Klux Klan from coast to coast.

BORAH FAVORS TAX REDUCTION IN NEXT TERM

Idaho Senator Urges Support Of Smoot's Plan For $500,000,000 Cut

By Associated Press
New York—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, here for conferences in connection with prospective coal legislation, Thursday issued a statement favoring a drive at the coming session of congress to reduce the nation's tax burden.

"I am very much in favor of tax reduction at this session of congress," he said. "We cannot act too speedily so long as we act with information and intelligence. If the fearful tax burden now being carried can be relieved, as Senator Smoot, who is as well advised as any one, declares, to the extent of $500,000,000 let us do so as soon as possible."

"The view expressed by Senator Smoot that the man of small income should be favored is good news also."

"I hope that the new chairman, Senator Smoot, with his usual industry and ability, will urge his program and urge it at this session. If we do not begin an active campaign for reductions, we will likely drift into a program of increasing the taxes. There will be plenty of plans to meet them in by an active program to reduce. Reduce and reduce now."

Senator Borah made it clear that his statement did not refer to the general tax reduction program being proposed by Secretary of the treasury Mellon.

CALL NEW WITNESS IN STOKES DIVORCE

By Associated Press
New York—Horace G. Knowles, formerly in the diplomatic service of the United States in Rumania, Bulgaria, Polivia and Peru Thursday testified at the retrial of W. E. D. Stokes's suit for divorce from his wife, Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, that he had seen Mrs. Stokes in 1914 on the stairs leading to the apartment of Edgar T. Wallace, co-respondent.

Clarence A. Smith, process server, and Charles Murphy, deputy sheriff, told of having made frequent and unsuccessful visits to the tearoom in the house where Wallace had his apartment in an attempt to serve a subpoena on Mrs. Mary McNulty, head waitress of the tearoom.

Appearance as a witness of Knowles, who did not appear at the first trial of the suit came as a surprise. It was apparent from the attitude of defense counsel.

Shipping Board Adopts Government Operation

United States Operates Own Vessels After Plan Of Commission Basis Has Been Abolished

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1923 By The Post Pub. Co. Washington—Government operation—more of it than before and probably for all times—has been embarked upon by the United States Shipping board.

After many weeks of maneuvering on the part of shipping interests to get possession of the ship parcels of the fleet built during the war and after the United States had appealed to President Coolidge to turn the ships over to private operators, the shipping board has gone ahead with plans exactly in line with the announcement made by the late President Harding when the ship excess bill failed to come to a vote in the last session of congress.

The Shipping board will operate its own vessels. The system of handling them through managing operators who received a commission on gross business done whether it was at a profit or a loss has been abolished. Consolidation of lines is being worked out with the aid of executives who are to receive salaries direct from the United States government instead of through managing agents. The only commission arrangement

MRS. COOK TAKES LEAD IN OIL CASE

By Associated Press
Fort Worth, Tex.—Mrs. Marie F. Cook, divorced wife of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, Arctic explorer and oil operator who, with 13 others is under indictment for the alleged use of the mails to defraud, took the lead in the trial of her husband in federal court Wednesday. She did not testify but declared in the court room that "she was there for a purpose."

Recently she was granted a divorce from the oil operator after spectacular allegations had been made by Mrs. Cook which were answered by Dr. Cook with the statement that "he had been framed."

The government went forward steadily in its attempt to prove the practice of fraud and began its assault on Cook, S. E. J. Cox and the other 12 co-defendants and associations of the Petroleum Producer's association.

PASTOR SAYS EDUCATION MUST CURE MODERN ILLS

By Associated Press
LaCrosse—Ku Klux Klan excesses, flapperism, bootlegging, and all other modern ills can be cured finally by Christian education alone, the Rev. W. E. Chalmers, D. D., told the Baptist State convention here Thursday. America is summoning the Sunday school to measure up to its job for good citizenship.

The secretary's report showed that the Roundy memorial fund has aided sixty-eight churches in building projects in fourteen years, $214,356 being appropriated for this purpose.

LAABS RESIGNS FROM COUNCIL; TO LEAVE CITY

Third Ward Alderman Surprises City Dads—Was Council Leader

August W. Laabs, one of the aldermen from the Third ward, presented his resignation from the common council at the meeting of that governing body Wednesday evening. Mr. Laabs is about to leave the city and that is his reason for resigning.

The resignation was like a thunder-bolt thrown into the meeting as his plans were known only to a few. Several motions were made to accept the resignation but remained unseconded. Alderman James A. Wood from the First ward asked the retiring council member when he expected to remove from the city. When told that he will leave next week, Mr. Wood offered a motion to lay the resignation on the table and thus allow Mr. Laabs to retain his office until his departure. The Third ward alderman objected to this and expressed the opinion that steps should be taken toward filling the vacancy.

This aroused a discussion on the question as to whether a successor should be appointed at this time or not. Some aldermen felt that the time was too near to the spring election to hold an election now. Mr. Laabs' term will expire next April.

OPPOSE ELECTION

The retiring alderman believed that a special election would entail a needless expense and that the council should appoint a successor. That the body of aldermen has this authority was quoted from the Wisconsin book of statutes by E. L. Williams, city clerk.

A motion was then again made to accept the resignation and followed by another in which the council expressed regret over his leaving and "recognized the efficient work and untiring efforts of Mr. Laabs in the council."

The vote of thanks tendered Mr. Laabs brought him to his feet to

AGED CELESTIALS SEE FIRST RAILWAY AT 77

Lewiston, Ida.—Although each has reached the age of 77 years, the first time Mah Yung and Pun Loi ever saw a railroad train was Wednesday, when they boarded it at the town of Greer, 50 miles east of here in coming to this city, on the first leg of the journey to their native city, Canton, China.

For sixty years the aged Chinese had been in the mining camp of Pierre City, 35 miles from Greer, the railroad point, and this is the first time since entering the camp they had caught a glimpse of the outside world.

Until two years ago they were engaged in placer mining, their age forcing retirement at that time. At one time there were 500 Chinese in Pierre and after the departure of Mah Yung and Pun Loi but two remain.

When heading for Pierre City in the gold rush days, the Chinese walked the distance from Portland, Ore., almost 500 miles.

$3,411 FRUIT OF FIRST DAY'S CLUB CAMPAIGN

Womans Club Extends Drive To Raise $10,000 To Include Friday

Telephone calls were received at the clubhouse during the campaign, supper on Wednesday of more than $1,000 but no money is being counted as collected until the donation card is duly filed with the treasurer and her campaign committee.

Although several hundred women had been asked to assist in the solicitation, more than 75 finally obtained the relation of funds and a committee of ports on Wednesday evening showed that only 31 solicitors had turned in their cards and that these had made 495 visits. Because of sickness in the families, some of the women could not work while others found Wednesday and Thursday impossible. The campaign will be continued over until Friday and any women who can assist in finishing up the campaign are urged to telephone Mrs. D. O. Kinsman, marshal.

Little Evidence Of Illness Apparent As Speaker Addresses Huge Crowd

REVOLUTION IS WRONG WAY Set Definite Amount To Be Paid And Force Restitution Briton Says

By Associated Press
Chicago—His chief message to America voiced, in which he endorsed the Hughes proposal for an international reparations commission, and recovered from his indisposition of Wednesday, David Lloyd George, war premier of Great Britain, expects to resume his itinerary Thursday.

Leaving Chicago for Springfield, Ill., at 9 o'clock Thursday morning his schedule calls for a visit to the tomb of Abraham Lincoln and an address there and later with his family and party he will continue his journey.

After completing his address Wednesday night before an audience of 10,000 persons in the international amphitheatre at the stock yards, the British statesman went immediately to his hotel where he had remained most of Wednesday, and retired. His rest Wednesday after his arranged schedule had been abandoned, enabling him to stand the strain of making the speech and members of his party said he had about recovered from the slight cold and fatigue which kept him in his hotel during the day.

ILLNESS NOT APPARENT

Little evidence of illness was apparent in the Little Welshman when he delivered his address with his characteristic force and energy. Amplified made his voice distinct to his audience and clearly to the thousands waiting outside in the rain, and wireless broadcasts his message throughout the country. Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes, former director of the federal budget, presided. He pronounced Secretary Hughes' proposal that a commission of business experts examine Germany's capacity to pay a thoroughly practical businesslike proposal.

"The United States of America is absolutely impartial," he declared. "She has no interest in reparations. She has certainly no more interest in Germany than anybody else. She is very well disposed toward France and therefore, with a friendly country absolutely impartial and with a great fund of business knowledge at his disposal, represented in a body of (Continued on Page 15)

INFANT MORTALITY RATE HERE HIGHER THAN STATE AVERAGE

84 Out Of 1,000 Babies Born Here Die Before They Are Year Old

Eighty-four out of every 1,000 babies born in Appleton die under the age of one year.

This information which is given out from the infant mortality statistics for six years from the 553 cities in the United States with a population of more than 100,000. While the 21 cities of this size in Wisconsin make up a death rate of 73.7 per thousand, Appleton ranks even lower than the average with 84. Madison has made the best record with only 47 in 1921 while Manitowoc has the highest rate, 113 in 1922.

The rate for all the twenty-one Wisconsin cities resulted in a general average for the year of 73.7, which placed the state eighth among the thirty states and the District of Columbia. The seven states with lower averages than Wisconsin were Oregon, four cities, with 58.6; the state of Washington, nine cities, with 53.9; Minnesota, eleven cities, with 60.3; California, 25 cities, with 64.6; Nebraska, five cities, with 65.3; Utah, two cities, with 71.0; and Indiana, 31 cities with 73.1.

The infant mortality rates for the twenty-one cities of more than 10,000 population in Wisconsin for the last six years is as follows:

Women Better Shoppers But Men Like To Deal With Men

"I want you to sell my wife a suit for me," a man told a salesman in a men's clothing store here as he entered, followed by his quiet-looking spouse. Nevertheless when he found out he liked he bought it regardless of her opinion.

How do things usually "pan" out when a wife accompanies her husband or what does she buy for him in a men's clothing store? That's the question which a reporter sought an answer. The first paragraph tells how it works out. This merchant said that in most cases women are far better judges of quality and more appreciative of fine tailoring than men. A man will try a suit on and if it pleases him he buys it, while a woman is more apt to look further into the purchase. She notes quality as well as price and in the opinion of this dealer would choose snappier clothes than the men.

But opinions differ. One of the most egotistical males remarked that women spoiled sales for him and that he would rather deal with men. "Many a woman," quoth he, "thinks she is an expert on men's clothing and blocks a good sale when she decides that they had better look somewhere else before they buy the first thing they see." Yet he admitted that their taste was far superior than that of most men.

As a general rule the only articles a woman buys for her husband or as gifts are shirts, hosiery, underwear, pajamas and what is generally known as men's furnishings. It is safe to say that 90 to 95 per cent of men's furnishings are bought for them by women, but men select their own overcoats, suits and hats.

Younger and unmarried men buy most their own furnishings, but the wife of an older man knows what he wants, however, and usually pleases him. It is a fact, however, that in most cases the salespeople in men's stores would rather deal with men. They understand them better and cannot fully appreciate a woman's economic instinct.

"It is easier to make a sale to a man," remarked one dealer, "because

VICTIM OF AUTO CRASH DEAD AT SHEBOYGAN

Sheboygan—Nels Landgren of Kohler died at St. Nicholas hospital late Tuesday afternoon. Landgren was standing in a Kohler street talking to a friend when the car struck him. Stolper picked him up and rushed him to the hospital.

Man of 74 Is "Rejuvenated" in 3 Weeks Without Gland Surgery

Thomas J. Glascock, 74, well-known Kansas contractor, declares he has "virtually" been made young again by the recently discovered korex compound, which is pronounced superior to "gland treatments" as an invigorator and revitalizer.

"I feel like I did at 35," says Mr. Glascock, "and seem to be getting stronger every day. During my three weeks' use of the new discovery, pains and weaknesses of many years' standing disappeared almost magically. Today I am as vigorous and supple as I was in the prime of life. Furthermore, when I began using the compound, my memory was virtually gone and I was almost blind. Now my mind is clear and active and I can read the finest print without difficulty."

In order to find out whether the results were lasting, Mr. Glascock waited six months before reporting on his test of the discovery. On this point he says:

"Every passing day strengthens my conviction that my restoration is not only complete but permanent. I can't express the happiness this great discovery has brought to me. It has made me young again."

Similar reports are being made almost daily. For instance, D. W. Wood of New Orleans, near 60 years of age, says: "The compound has brought me back to as good, healthy physical condition as I enjoyed at 35. I am apparently as supple as at 25 and my eyesight is better than forty years. I would not take $5,000 for what the discovery has done for me."

The compound is a simple home treatment in tablet form, absolutely harmless, yet rated as the quickest and most powerful invigorator known. Acting directly on lower spinal nerves and certain glands and blood

Kansas Contractor Tells of Wonderful Results Obtained in Test of New Scientific Discovery

Thomas J. Glascock, 74, well-known Kansas contractor, declares he has "virtually" been made young again by the recently discovered korex compound, which is pronounced superior to "gland treatments" as an invigorator and revitalizer.

"I feel like I did at 35," says Mr. Glascock, "and seem to be getting stronger every day. During my three weeks' use of the new discovery, pains and weaknesses of many years' standing disappeared almost magically. Today I am as vigorous and supple as I was in the prime of life. Furthermore, when I began using the compound, my memory was virtually gone and I was almost blind. Now my mind is clear and active and I can read the finest print without difficulty."

In order to find out whether the results were lasting, Mr. Glascock waited six months before reporting on his test of the discovery. On this point he says:

"Every passing day strengthens my conviction that my restoration is not only complete but permanent. I can't express the happiness this great discovery has brought to me. It has made me young again."

Similar reports are being made almost daily. For instance, D. W. Wood of New Orleans, near 60 years of age, says: "The compound has brought me back to as good, healthy physical condition as I enjoyed at 35. I am apparently as supple as at 25 and my eyesight is better than forty years. I would not take $5,000 for what the discovery has done for me."

The compound is a simple home treatment in tablet form, absolutely harmless, yet rated as the quickest and most powerful invigorator known. Acting directly on lower spinal nerves and certain glands and blood

MR. GOMPERS AND UNIONISM
Revelation of Mr. Samuel Gompers to the presidency of the American Federation of Labor happens to be as agreeable to the general public as to the millions of citizens who are members of unionism. During his long incumbency of the office he has opposed all forms of radicalism, thereby rendering valuable services to the nation, as well as to organized labor, and he has been able to keep labor from organizing a political party of its own, thereby combining unionism to unionism alone, and preventing unionism from destroying itself.

It is impossible to indorse Mr. Gompers' vindictive criticism of the courts, especially is it impossible to approve his attacks on the United States supreme court. He has made most serious mistakes along this line, for, in the last analysis, the courts are the mainstay of law and order, and their decisions must be accepted with respect. Otherwise, Mr. Gompers has done most arduous work exceptionally well. His work stamps him as a great man.

With industry organized, labor necessarily must be organized. Unionism has been and is of great benefit to others than those of its fold. In all probability, labor saved this country from revolution, which might have come had not organized labor worked out economic adjustments; and it secures to the individual workman the sense of independence, which, in his manhood and citizenship, he should have. In the problems which labor and industry are to work out in the next few years, it will be imperative for both to give up their idea that their issues cannot be settled except by industrial war. Both parties will have to change their points of view, and instead of being confirmed enemies, attempting to gain all they can, they should be adjudicators.

Labor cannot afford to take all that it can get, any more than industry can afford to give as little as it is obliged to give. Apprenticeship limitations will have to be corrected. Rules will have to be modified. If labor is too unreasonable it will make the same mistakes that capital made in being unjust in subordinating the human to the financial element.

IS FOUL PLAY A PART OF THE GAME?
Do Americans as a people admire foul play, or do they regard a rigid adherence to the code of honor as namby-pamby and impossible? Grave doubts could be harbored on this point if we had to accept the apparent estimate of Hugh Fullerton, nationally known sports authority and baseball writer, in his report of a rather flagrant incident in the ninth inning of Friday's world series game.

With the Yankees striving desperately to overcome a one-run lead, and with the count three and two on Ward, the pitcher threw a fast ball. As it left his hand, Catcher Snyder deliberately reached up with his mitt, knocked Ward's bat upward, and caused him to turn in surprise and protest just as the ball over the head of the plate. The umpire, watching only the ball, called a strike, and denied the angry protests of the American leaguers, who should by the rules have had Ward on first.

Here was chicanery as despicable as cheating at cards, drugging a race horse, fouling a lineman in football. Yet Fullerton, long one of the most popular baseball reporters in the land, comments only: "Snyder admitted his act, and gave the laugh to the angry American leaguers, and was entitled to it, as he put over one of the oldest tricks in the game."

Almost as old a trick, probably, as the "cold deck" and the lying golf score. Mr. Fullerton thinks he is appealing, by his comment, to a public which subscribes to the sentiment, "It's all right if you get away with it." Only a small part, even of the baseball public, tolerates this slogan. Most Americans detest cheating as a form of cowardice, and rightly resent it more when it wins than when it loses. At Olympic games the field integrity of our contestants has been an outstanding feature, often commented upon in rather odious comparison to the type of sportsmanship of certain central European squads.

It is not recorded that the 65,000 Americans in the stands substantiated Mr. Fullerton's opinion; in fact, any baseball crowd understanding that an obvious foul had been committed could be counted upon to make its disapproval known.

LOVE OR WEALTH
Beautiful, and true, and cultured is that sweet saying that "kissing goes by favor." How much more honest, sincere and delightfully human and moral it is than "it is just as easy to love a rich man as a poor one," or that abominable saying, hinting at the possibility of deliberate compromise of maidenly refinement, that "it is better to be a rich man's darling than a poor man's slave." No young girl ever gives herself in love to a man for his gold. So says an old man, who is convinced that wealth cannot purchase the honorable affection which sanctifies the home.

Love is a favor, not a bargain; it is a gift, not a sale; it is sacrifice, not selfishness. The test of it always is the devout and loyal wish to bestow brightness and goodness without consideration of benefits to be acquired.

Notwithstanding that critical students of human nature believe that there is little of the old-fashioned love in the home, it seems to be a justifiable opinion that the home could not continue to exist if love did not glow with the fire of old, the fire of affection and sacrifice. Once real love withered, and men and women tried to get along with a formal substitute, the family would become extinct, and the home an unattractive house, a place of quarrelling and selfishness. Young persons like to picture their own future homes as palaces. Hopeful maidens expect to marry handsome, rich and knightly men, and youths pick out, in fancy, princesses of beauty and refinement. They expect to have elegant wardrobes, plenty of money, and naught but ease and bliss.

Yet, most young persons expect to marry for love, and many of them are willing, as ladies and ladies used to be, to begin married life with fewer comforts than they enjoy under the parental roof. Love is first with them. There are exceptions which prove the rule for after all, what can money and show offer in married life that compensates for lack of honorable affection and devotion. The secret of happiness is not riches or entertainment, but the most charming idealism, which is love.

TODAY'S POEM
By Berton Braloy
FRAGRANCE
There's a pleasant smell to roses
And to various other flowers;
And I like the smell of spices Oriental;
And the respiration of a maiden
With a subtle perfume laden
Have a scent that always makes me sentimental.
But I'm frank enough to whisper
That when days are growing crispier
And I'm glad to add a vest to my adorning,
Then the smell which greatly thrills me
And with zest and gusto fills me
Is the smell of eggs and bacon in the morning.

When my body I have lavied
Bathed, in other words—showered,
I must suffer, oftentimes, from semicoma,
For it takes me long to waken.
But the eggs and sizzling bacon
Have a tonic and a kick in their aroma.
So, though percolated Java
May, and certainly DOES have a
Joyous fragrance which I'm very far from scorning,
Yet all the scent I've granted
Quite the richest one I've given
Is the smell of eggs and bacon in the morning!

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author
Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

A CLOT IN VEIN
In our first talk about veins the other day we were going along smoothly and apparently approaching the really important part, where I should have told the reader how to diagnose and treat phlebitis (inflammation of a vein) when, of course, we suddenly stopped the show so I could do my stuff, the same old stuff—advise folks to consult a competent physician. If this seems unfair let me explain that this is not a medical comment but a health department. I am not a competent physician by mail, and through the newspaper, I'll free myself. But I'll start myself that I can tell healthy people through the newspapers a good many things that are helpful for healthy people to know. All who have something the matter or think they have and don't know just what to do or what to do about it, I advise to consult their physician.

Phlebitis is a case in point. I maintain without fear of successful contradiction that no healer can determine without personal examination and study of the individual case, whether absolute rest, mass of the inactive exercise or active exercise would be safe or helpful in the given case or phlebitis at any stage of the process. Therefore we gracefully skip the diagnosis and treatment.

The process of coagulation, congealing or clotting of the blood, in life, within the heart or in the circulation to lodge or stick in some small artery in lungs or brain; this process is called embolism; the particle itself is an embolus. When a clot or thrombus becomes infected (invaded by bacteria) the danger of septic emboli spreading through the circulation and causing general blood poisoning (septicemia) is added to the danger of mechanical embolism. Thrombosis of clotting within a vein in any circumstances calls for rest rather than rubbing, massage or manipulation under any other name, not merely rest in the common sense of the word, but what physicians know as physiological rest; to insure that no little degree of ingenuity and skill is needed.

In many "attacks" of piles the inflamed vein or veins contain clots; no relief comes until the clots are turned out with the lance. A clot or thrombus in artery or vein in any situation may be entirely absorbed or become gradually changed into fibrous scar tissue or if infected it may undergo suppuration. No specific remedy or treatment will dissolve or cause absorption of clot anywhere. If that favorable outcome happens it is because nature's way has not been too much impeded by unwise management.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Nurse Jane at Work
What to do when you have a hundred itches and the doctor says "Don't scratch." Nurse Jane says I have hives from eating vegetables containing acid. I'm all broke out with any watery pimples. Like the face, only worse.—J. J. R.

Answer—Can't nurse Jane instruct the doctor how to manage the trouble? She seems to have unique theories as to the pathology and diagnosis of hives; she must have been studying the latest almanac, for she is right there with the acids. Your safest plan would be to invite nurse Jane to tell to the marines, and follow your doctor's advice.

Bacillus Culture
Please inform me where I can get the bacillus acidophilus culture to be used to ferment milk as a beverage or to be taken internally along with sugar to improve the bacterial flora in the intestine.—M. R. L.

Answer—Large drug firms generally have either Bulgarian bacillus cultures or bacillus acidophilus cultures (the latter perhaps more readily implanted in the intestinal tract). A pure whole milk, cultured with bacillus acidophilus is supplied through the drug trade by Lederle Antitoxin Laboratories of New York, N. Y.

Maurer Bros., corner of Cherry and College, purchased the grocery stock of E. Schrotzky and moved it to their store.
John Lester, who several years previous acted as agent of the United States Express company, was married at Winona on Oct. 12 to Miss Veronica Smith.
The Northwestern Medical association and Fox River Medical association were to hold a joint meeting at Oshkosh the following Tuesday. Dr. J. T. Reeve was the only Appleton physician whose name appeared on the program.
J. E. H. Sumson delivered to Capt. J. M. Baer, a portrait of his son, the late Corporal O. Baer.
The work of excavation for the new agricultural implement building to be erected on Appleton-st by B. C. Tozier, was commenced.
The Epworth League of the Methodist church entertained several members of Company G who returned from Porto Rico a short time previous. Included among them were Charles Diener, Bert Curtis, Aaron and George Zerbel and Irving Kelsey.
Among those planning to go deer hunting were Dr. H. E. Edsworth, Frank Richardson, H. D. Fox, Herbert and Peter Verwey, Daniel Terris and P. M. Conker.
The factory of Appleton Picicle & Preserving company was entered by burglars who stole a quantity of bottled goods.

TEN YEARS AGO

Always have fish at that meal. A bone to choke on provides the time necessary for you to get on your bearings. Come on, "One Line Mike" and help a guy with your alibis now.

Linotype Mac says he positively refuses to eat another banana until this worldwide shortage of bananas subsides.

Its Old New
Although this is a little antiquated, it is no reason why Appleton's assistant postmaster should not be immortalized by this column. Whenever the postmaster calls on him and asks, "What's new?" that official answers, "He's the postmaster-general."

On a trip through northern Minnesota we drove through a Finn settlement and saw at each house what appeared to be a smokehouse. They told us it was a bathhouse. Every Finnlander takes his vapor bath in house built for that purpose. We have discussed the ad in the Post-Crescent which read, "FOR RENT, modern 6 room and bath house, IMMEDIATE POSSESSION." The ad taker must have had experience as a hotel clerk, for the ad was corrected to read "6 room house and bath."

WHAT IS GOING ON IN THE WORLD

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Chancellor Stresemann is making frantic efforts to keep Germany from breaking into a number of separate states, such as existed before. Bismarck united them, about half a century ago, into the empire the kaiser ruled.
Defeat in the World War shook this union badly.
The present republican government's surrender to France in the Ruhr, naturally a terrible blow to the people's faith in today's regime, threatens to drive some, at least, of the states into deciding to "go it alone" again.

WHAT FRANCE WANTS
Indications are that this is what France wants, since she would have to fear from a group of weak, separated states, compared with a united Germany. However, undoubtedly it would mean indefinitely prolonged confusion in Central Europe, which wouldn't suit the rest of the world. England especially would be displeased, for both business and political reasons. In the end it might not be a good thing for France, but she seems to think so now.

NEW GERMAN CABINET
Stresemann resigned as chancellor or premier, but immediately accepted a reappointment and began forming a new cabinet. His idea appears to have been, not to quit, but to make a fresh start, with a group of ministers he was more in harmony with. Probably he really wanted to make himself dictator, so as to fight the separatist movement more vigorously, but this plan was abandoned temporarily. It may be tried later.

WETS AND DRY
Bishop Schrems, addressing the National Council of Catholic Women's Convention in Washington, referred to prohibition as "a law the people didn't can't be enforced."
Figures compiled by the United Press account for 2000 known deaths from poison liquor thus far in 1923.

Federal prohibition headquarters statistics show 450,000 Americans drinking whiskey daily on doctor's prescriptions, as medicine.
The Federal Council of Churches has been called into conference in Washington, Oct. 14, on the subject of prohibition, the summons saying violations are increasing and that "mob rule threatens the country."

WHAT YOU TRYING TO DO, GOVERNOR, UPSET THE BAND WAGON?

Ad. O. — Ever since Ralph Swisher, 21, of West Unity, O., entered grammar school, he has been "on his own." That is, he hasn't depended on anyone for a living since his elementary school days.

Now, in his senior year at Ohio Northern University, Swisher, here he is still working his way through — his graduation next summer.

Young Swisher prides himself in the fact that he has financed his own education, every penny of it, since he was 12.

He got his start selling newspapers and doing odd jobs for the neighbors.

During his college days he has been assisting in the chemistry laboratory, and has also found time to help in the dining-room of the fraternity house, cover sports and manage the business end of the university annual. During his vacations he had a confectionery store at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Yet, despite his outside endeavors, Swisher has been making high averages in his studies, ranking among the leaders of his class.

THIS LITTLE BABY GIRL

Was Benefited by the Good Her Mother Got from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

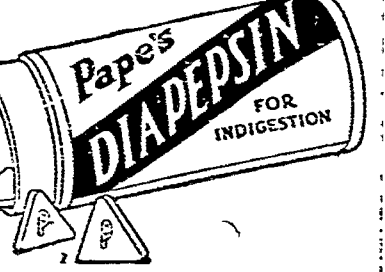

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because my little girl was born, and the effect it had was wonderful. This will be the first child I have ever had as I had to bring my two boys upon the bottle. I was very nervous and worried, tired all the time and after I read about the Vegetable Compound I tried it and kept on with it. It still continues its use and recommends it to my friends. You may publish these facts as a testimonial for your medicine."—Mrs. WM. KLINGE, 169 Plymouth St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many mothers are left in a weakened and run-down condition after the birth of the child, and for such mothers the care of the baby is well-nigh impossible. Not only is it hard for the mother, but the child itself will indirectly suffer.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother at this time. It is prepared from natural roots and herbs, and does not contain any harmful drugs.

Kaukauna—If there is a football team in Wisconsin capable of beating the Kaukauna American legion aggregation, it will be the eleven which is scheduled to meet the legionaries Sunday afternoon on the local lot. An agreement has been reached between Manager Edward Reimke and the Kissel Motors team of Hartford, Wis. The kick off will be promptly at 2:30. Larger crowds have been turning out for the games the last two Sundays, giving the management a little encouragement to scout about beyond the circle of the Fox river valley in an effort to find teams to match the Kaukauna squad.

Other than this season will include games with such teams as the La. phams and the Washington A. C.'s of Milwaukee, members of a league which is said to include the strongest amateur teams in Wisconsin. An attempt to sign up with the La. phams of Marinette failed although the management of the touted up state crew corresponded with the legion manager relative to a brace of games, one to be played here and the other at Marinette.

FOND DU LAC CLUB BUYS PLAYGROUND

Fond du Lac—Through action taken at a regular meeting of the Kiwanis club, the Clancy estate property, consisting of nine acres adjoining the high school building on Linden-st. on the north and extending to Ninth-st. will be converted into a children's playground.

The club has leased the property for a term of five years with extensions of equipping it and converting the premises into an ideal recreation spot for the youngsters of Fond du Lac. Owing to the lateness of the season the grounds will not be equipped this year, but will be leveled off and placed in first class condition for play.

About 100 loads of filling will be placed on the grounds this fall, making the property fit for football and similar games. Just what form of equipment will be installed next year has not been decided upon.

The club has planned to purchase the property, but a sale could not be obtained at this time due to the fact that the Clancy estate is unsettled. The property comprises some of the most attractive land in the city and the conversion of the premises into a playground will fill a long felt need in the community.

BANK DEPOSITS SHOW STATE IS PROSPEROUS

The report shows a gratifying gain in resources and deposits, reflecting substantial improvement in the general situation which it is hoped may continue until complete normalcy may be attained. Dwight T. Parker, banking commissioner, said in submitting the statement.

COLLECTING ELEPHANTS HOBBY OF BUSINESS MAN

Seattle—Herbert Schoenfeld, Seattle business man, has a "hobby" account on his hands. He has several hundred more of various types, sizes and colors.

When it comes to elephants, Schoenfeld is a "freak." He cheerfully admits it. He has an overpowering penchant for man-carved pachyderms of any breed.

Schoenfeld's collection now numbers some 630 specimens and is growing. He has been gathering them from the far corners of the world for 15 years and has business office, where he houses his pets, looks like an elephant manager.

"I have always loved elephants," explains Schoenfeld. "I have always been interested in reading about their symbolism—their connection in the eyes of orientals, with good, luck, friendship and strength. Fifteen years ago I was in Japan, where elephant bones were numerous. The opportunity was there and I started my collection."

The Schoenfeld "herd" now includes artistic carvings in bronze, marble, porcelain, mahogany, native woods of Europe and tropical for sets, coral and sponge. The largest of the group measures four feet from tail to trunk and is 23 inches high. It is of bronze and came originally from Honolulu. An elephant carved from pink coral is the smallest one, a miniature of about one-half by one-fourth inch.

When Schoenfeld's friends go strolling in distant places, they send him more elephants.

"And some day," he says, "I hope to get a live one."

LOW YIELD OF HAY
AND FROST DAMAGE
CUTS FARM PROFITS

Wisconsin Crop Reporting Service Finds Big Reduction In Hay Crop

Low yields of hay and extensive frost damage to tobacco are reported in the October survey of the Wisconsin crop reporting service. The survey further showed that there is a marked increase in the production of alfalfa hay, together with a cut in the crop of clover seed amounting to about one-third with a September milk price 10 cents higher than in August.

There was no serious drought in northern Wisconsin, but in the rest of the state drought cut the yields of hay. The crop was particularly short in the southwestern part of the state, according to the survey. The average yield of tame hay is 3.35 tons per acre as compared to 4.75 tons last year and a 5 year average of 3.75 tons. Total production is estimated to be 40 million tons—slightly less than the 5-year average production and 21 per cent below last year's large hay crop.

Alfalfa maintained the highest condition of all hay crops during the entire growing season, making an average yield of 5.4 tons per acre compared to a yield of 4.45 tons for clover hay. Last year's average yield of alfalfa was 5.7 tons. The total tonnage is estimated to be 50,000 tons or 27 per cent more than last year's Green, Jefferson, and Waukesha counties lead in alfalfa production.

This year's best crop in Wisconsin promises to be twice as large as last year, the forecast being 135,000 tons compared to 67,000 tons last year. Yields will be high in the southwestern part of the state.

September milk prices were 10 cents per hundred weight more than the August price. The September average price was $2.10. The average price paid for milk at cheese factories was $2.15 per hundred weight, and buttermilk at creameries averaged 45 cents per pound.

SAYS GHOSTS ARE YOUR BEST FRIENDS

New York—Aristocrat of ghosts, well, don't be, says Flora Marian Spora, Greenwich Village artist.

"Ghosts," she adds, "are your best friends, and they help their greatest happiness out of helping folks."

Look what ghosts did for Flora Marian:

Took her out of Bay City, Mich., where she was following the same what prosaic calling of dentist, set her down in Greenwich Village and told her how to paint.

Told her they would teach her how to play the piano and write stories.

Turned her into a prophet by whispering warnings of a world war and the fate of nations.

Took her on an ocean voyage and told her where and how she would meet the man whom she would some day marry.

Brought her back to New York and dictated a movie scenario to her.

And now—a movie concern has taken over the scenario. If her seven tales come out all right, Flora Marian is to star in her ghost-written picture.

ten photograph. Under the control of "People," which is what she calls her shows, she will paint the sets for it.

And her "People" tell Flora Marian that her name will be known all over the world. Pretty good, don't you think, for a girl who three and a half years ago was "trying to keep people soothed, calm and cheerful in a dentist's chair back in Bay City, Mich.?"

"I don't believe in spiritualism," she says, "and I think that most of these table rappings are silly. I'm not smart and when I try to write or paint through my own efforts I can't do a thing."

But my "People" tell me that after they die they lose all jealousy and that their greatest joy is in helping people back here on earth. The reason they can't get through to more people is because we are selfish and wrapped up in material things.

"They tell me how to keep well and what to cook. They've even given me recipes."

"They want me about world troubles, too. They tell me now that a well-known woman will die very suddenly and that the most terrible war the world has ever known is already under way."

But though she doesn't believe in rappings and such, Flora Marian does most of her writing on the back of a corks board.

Rainbow Boys
Left America
Six Years Ago

Six years ago Thursday, Oct. 18, Appleton members of the Rainbow division embarked at New York on the transport Covington for France, where they arrived Nov. 1.

They went aboard the transport early in the afternoon, and early in the evening steamed out into the bay, where they remained until late at night. When they arose the next morning they were out of sight of land.

The boys had been at Camp Mills, Long Island, about three weeks before sailing. They went there direct from Camp Douglas, where they had been for several weeks previous.

Ends Stubborn Coughs
in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is very easily prepared, and there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a pint bottle, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel its take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and disappear. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of pure Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

LAABS RESIGNS FROM COUNCIL; TO LEAVE CITY

Third Ward Alderman Surprises City Dads—Was Council Leader

make the following brief speech:
"I'd like to say that it took me a long time to decide on this matter. I have taken an active interest in all city affairs during my term of office. I did my best. I certainly appreciate the work done not only with my efforts but with the assistance of the entire council. I hope that those who have accused me of selfishness will not realize that it was not selfishness but civic pride."

The council was entirely unprepared to name a successor Wednesday evening. Filling of the vacancy was thus left until the next meeting in order that the Third ward might have an opportunity to express a choice.

SUBMITS TWO NAMES

The aldermen of the Third ward were asked if they desired to express a preference for any candidate. Mr. Laabs then submitted the names of George T. Richard and Francis X. Bachman. Mr. Bachman received a number of votes in the last primaries, although he was not a candidate. Mr. Richard is a man who has been in sight in city affairs and would well represent this ward, Mr. Laabs said.

Candidates for appointment to the vacant office will be permitted to be nominated at the next meeting. It is likely that those candidates who are most often nominated to the council by the electors of the Third ward will be appointed. This action of the council is expected to bring a good many petition lists in circulation.

HELPED THIRD WARD

The accusations of "selfishness" to which Mr. Laabs referred resulted largely from his efforts in behalf of the ward he represented. He and his colleague, Alderman C. F. Smith, secured more legislation for the Third ward than for any ward in the city. Their defense was that this ward was one of the newest and in most need of improvement.

Even after his resignation Wednesday evening, Mr. Laabs constantly took the floor to urge street improvements here and there in the ward and asked a number of questions as to how much had been done toward beginning this or that improvement.

The former alderman is about to move with his family to a large farm west of Menomonie, Wis. He was born and reared on a farm and has never quite been able to lose interest in this work. He will be assisted on the farm by two grownup sons.

It is a farm of 454 acres with a great of timber, shrub shrub and great deal of it under cultivation.

HOUSE RUSHES QUIZ OF OKLAHOMA CHIEF

By Associated Press
Oklahoma City—The investigation committee of the house of Oklahoma Thursday was rushing to completion a report of its inquiry into the official conduct of Governor J. C. Walton, scheduled to be presented to the house Friday.

With its submission, the fight between the friends and enemies of the executive will be brought into the open and the question determined whether impeachment charges shall be filed before the senate.

The house did not meet Thursday and the senate was to hold only a brief session.

U. S. ATTORNEY FILES LIQUOR CRIME SUITS

By Associated Press
New York—United States Attorney Haywood Thursday filed 54 injunctions and common nuisance suits in federal court, under the Volstead act, to close alleged wet saloons, cafes, restaurants and cabarets in this city. The names of the places were not available Thursday morning as the complaints in the various cases had not been filed.

The evidence on which the suits were based was obtained by Assistant United States Attorney John Holley Clark.

There are 57 head of cattle on the place, and the farm is otherwise well equipped.

Mr. Laabs came to Appleton in 1899 but did not reside here permanently until 1907. For years he was engaged as train dispatcher of the Chicago and Northwestern railway. In more recent years he has been engaged in the real estate business, his partner being R. F. Shepherd. Mr. Laabs has disposed of all his property in this vicinity and is ready to leave for his new home.

ROSEBUSH SUBMITS NEW CONSTITUTION AT 'Y' CONVENTION

Appleton Man's Plan Eliminates Obsolete Practices, He Says

By Associated Press
Cleveland—A constitution which would create an interdenominational council and an independent judiciary was submitted to the opening session of the constitutional convention of the Y. M. C. A., which is attempting to set up a supervisory machine for the 2,000 local associations in the United States and Canada. The day was devoted mostly to organization.

The constitution was proposed by Judson C. Rosebush, Appleton, Wis., manufacturer. It is the first of at least a dozen other drafts of a fundamental law which will be submitted to the 450 delegates to eliminate duplication of work and overlapping of executives.

The Rosebush draft would codify in part many of the present practices, eliminate some obsolete practices and substitute others in its place. "It preserves the integrity of the present state organizations," Mr. Rosebush said. "Local organizations would be wholly supervised by their state organizations but supervision by the national council would be given to such activities as college and railroad Y. M. C. A.'s which can show that they are truly national in character. The international council would have the right to tax the local associations."

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stride have returned to Niagara, Wis. after a several days visit with Appleton friends.

By Associated Press
Kingman, Ariz.—For 36 hours six crews, working in relays, have been striving to penetrate the mammoth pile of rock and mine timbers which has entombed and probably killed four workmen and the superintendent of the Utah Apex Metal mine. No trace of the men has been found and mine officials say it will be a miracle if the entombed miners are taken out alive. The body of Foreman Dan Eden who was nearest to the level, when the cave-in occurred was recovered early Wednesday.

RECORD ORE SHIPMENT EXPECTED AT SUPERIOR

Superior—A record shipment of nearly 15,000,000 tons of ore is expected to be the record accomplishment by the great Northern Railroad from the ore docks at Allouez when the season closes in December, rail officials announced Wednesday night.

Up to the present time more than 13,500,000 tons have left the docks here for lower lake ports, it was said. The shipment this season will surpass that of any other year.

In preparation for the cold weather expected shortly, a steamship has been erected whereby cars of ore may be run through and thawed out to increase the speed of dumping into the pockets.

C. OF C. FIXES LOW PRICE FOR FAMOUS EXPLORER'S TALK

Profit Will Be Sacrificed So All May Hear Stefansson, High-priced Speaker

An admission price of 75 cents was fixed by the board of directors of the chamber of commerce at a meeting Wednesday evening for the lecture which will be given at Lawrence Memorial chapel, No. 8 by Vilhelmiur Stefansson, America's foremost explorer. This gives people of this locality a chance to hear one of the highest-priced speakers in the country at a nominal fee.

The board decided that the chamber of commerce should make it possible for everybody to hear this man, and the idea of making any profit from the lecture therefore was dropped. Only enough will be charged to make expenses and any balance that might remain will be turned over to the People's forum. At the price mentioned above it will be necessary to fill practically the entire chapel in order to meet expenses.

JOINT DISPLAYS PLANNED

Several other matters were taken up by the board at its meeting. G. W. Carrothers of the Wisconsin Products exposition in Milwaukee in December, explained how the displays are being worked out and suggested that the chamber of commerce assist small manufacturers to display their products in the board decided to have the chamber act as a clearing house for manufacturers who want to engage booths jointly for two, three, four or more displays, thus cutting the cost to each. Mr. Carrothers will call on prospective exhibitors to explain details of the exposition.

Holding of a Sheldon business normal here was discussed but invitation to this organization to conduct its lectures was deferred until later. The normal would include two or three weeks of free addresses on business and community efficiency before various organizations, and a followup course for those persons or individuals who desire to subscribe.

HEAR STOVE REPORT

The report of the special committee concerning the Tidmouth Stove and Heater company's stove was read. The call for a public meeting to discuss the manufacture of the stove here is left to the citizens' committee.

Secretary Hugh G. Corbett was instructed to represent the chamber as official delegate at the annual meeting of the National Association of Commerce Organization Secretaries. This gathering takes place about Nov. 1 in Cincinnati, Ohio.

MELLON CALLS DEBT BOARD TO CONCLAVE

Secretary Thinks It Is Time To Survey Foreign Financial Status

By Associated Press

Washington — Secretary Mellon Thursday called the debt commission to meet Saturday, Oct. 20, but declined to disclose what subjects will be considered aside from the commission's annual reports.

Asked if the commission would consider the sending of "a first of the month statement" to the debt nations, Mr. Mellon said he had given no thought to that phase of the situation. He recalled that one communication of that nature had been sent to all powers more than a year ago, and added that he thought it was time for the commission to meet and discuss whatever subjects its members may call up.

Coincident with the call, it was made known at the treasury that a survey had been made of the financial status of all of the foreign powers.

"Grandpa" Langstadt is 88 years young today. He is modestly accepting congratulations of his legion of friends and advising them that he will be with them at least 12 years more. Grandpa's greatest ambition now is to live to be at least 100 years old.

Tomorrow is the anniversary of one of the greatest battles in which the army of General Phil Sheridan, Grandpa's commander in the Civil war, participated. It was the battle of Cedar's creek and it was here that General Sheridan made the famous ride to turn the tide of defeat into victory. The famous engagement took place 59 years ago.

Grandpa, although a member of Sheridan's command, was not in the battle. He had been sent on scout duty and was absent from the main body of troops when the fight started.

ARREST ALLEGED MOONSHINER AFTER 5-MONTHS SEARCH

William Powers Taken Into Custody—Still Raided Last Spring

Five months intervened between the time of call on a moonshine distillery in Buchanan and the arrest of the man who is alleged to have operated it. It is long time to wait, but the machinery of the law was successful in finally arresting William Powers, who has been sought for making moonshine on the William Duff farm, according to the warrant.

The raid was staged by Sheriff Otto H. Zuehlke and federal prohibition enforcement officers on May 15, when a 100-gallon still, perhaps the largest in the history of prohibition, was seized. The officers encountered some difficulty at the time in identifying the farms and their owners, but one man, was arrested and imprisoned.

Powers was brought into municipal court Wednesday afternoon after his arrest by Sheriff Zuehlke. The date of his preliminary examination was set for Nov. 9, and the defendant was released on furnishing bonds in the sum of $1,000. It was suspected that Powers had been hiding from the authorities for the officers could never find him when they called. Powers declares, however, that he has been absent from home.

Two different counts are entered upon the warrant for his arrest. One charges him with possession of a still, 500 gallons of mash and 6 gallons of illicit liquor, the other charges him with possession of 225 gallons of mash, two gallons of illicit liquor and a quantity of copper coil, a cooler and a pressure tank used for manufacturing intoxicating liquor.

Mrs. Edward Lohman returned to St. Paul Thursday after attending the funeral of Mrs. August Lohman.

$10,000 SUIT IS SETTLED OUT OF COURT FOR $1,400

Agreement Is Reached In Demerath Action Against F. M. Charlesworth

The $10,000 damage suit started by George Demerath and his guardian Ann M. L. Demerath against Frank M. Charlesworth, Sr., was settled between the parties at about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Attorneys had completed the examination of witnesses and were about to prepare a special verdict for the municipal court jury that had been hearing the case begun Tuesday afternoon.

The amount compromised upon was a much smaller sum than was sued for. Under the stipulations the plaintiff will receive $1,400 as compensation for doctor bills and other expenses. The defendant, while disclaiming responsibility for the accident, felt that the boy should have some compensation for the injuries he suffered when he was struck off a bicycle by Mr. Charlesworth's automobile in July 1912. The boy was partly disabled from a broken leg.

Iceman Caught As He Tries To Steal Chicken

A familiar scene of the Major Hoople boarding house cartoons was dramatized and reenacted this week in Appleton. But this time the culprit was not Buster, for he is seeking to reduce as every one knows.

But the only thing the Appleton man sought to reduce was the contents of the ice box. The tragedy occurred Monday in Claude H. Snider's College-ave restaurant.

Like the vigilant Mrs. Hoople, Mr. Snider suspected that a series of raids had been made upon the refrigerator, but it was not his fortune until Monday to catch the intruder in the act. As he confronted him, the iceman, Peter Goemann by name—was trying to hide a chicken.

Goemann pleaded guilty to the charge of petty larceny in municipal court Thursday and was sentenced by Judge A. M. Spencer to ten days at hard labor in the county workhouse. He was not permitted to keep the chicken.

Quickly Heals Old Sores and Conquers Piles

Also Stops Itching of Eczema Almost Immediately.

"Peterson's Ointment Co., Buffalo, N. Y.—I want to tell you how much I do love Peterson's Ointment for the good it has done me. My sore was on my left leg, was 4 1/2 inches by 2 1/2 inches wide—is all healed up beautifully now and then too it was so soothing on such a raw sore. I can't say enough praise for the good it has done me and will say a good word in your sales favor." Very truly yours, Miss Kate Kull, Sigel, Ill.

"I'd rather get a letter like that," says Peterson of Buffalo, "than have John D. Rockefeller give me a thousand dollars. It does me a lot of good to be able to be of use to my fellow man.

"For years I have been suffering through druggists a large box of PETERSON'S OINTMENT for 35 cents. The healing power in this ointment is marvelous. Eczema goes in a few days. Old sores heal up like magic. Piles that other remedies do not seem to even relieve are speedily conquered."

It stops chafing in five minutes and for scalds and burns it is simply wonderful. adv.

TRAIN KILLS EIGHT IN BUS----PLAN HARDING TOWER

This wreckage strewn along the right of way, marks the site where eight school children were crushed to death when a fast passenger train hit the school bus at a grade crossing near Batavia, O. Of the 13 tots who were in the car, only six escaped unhurt. The lumber leaped from the rear of the coach when it saw the express bearing down on them, and gazed with horror on the carn and mutilation wrought among their companions.

When this $4,000,000 Washington Masque National Memorial, to be erected in honor of President Washington, is completed it will represent the grandest monument ever consecrated to the memory of any human being. Impressive ceremonies will mark the laying of the cornerstone Nov. 1. The monument will rise on the right bank of the Potomac just over the Virginia line on Shoppers Hill, at Alexandria. It will be 290 feet high and 160 feet wide.

Some doubting Thomases have been casting aspersions on the authenticity of Gilda Gray's "aula puda" dances, to the effect that they're not original or anything. But to this Gilda makes neat rejoinder, saying she should worry or something like that, because she's copied her stuff from the South Sea originals. So there!

STEVENS POINT PEOPLE COMING TO HEAR STEFANSSON

Explorer Of World Renown Is Expected To Draw Audience From Wide Radius

Nilliamur Stefansson, the eminent explorer, must be a remarkable lecturer. At least that is what Hugh G. Corbett, secretary of the chamber of commerce thinks, following receipt of a letter from Stevens Point asking for seats for residents of that city when he speaks at Lawrence Memorial chapel here, Nov. 8.

E. Christianson, assistant secretary of the Wisconsin Retail Hardware Dealers association of Stevens Point, wrote the letter declaring that he had heard of Stefansson's intention of coming here to speak. He wanted details concerning the date and price of tickets, saying several people would come to Appleton to hear him.

The chamber of commerce is bringing him to this city, believing the people appreciate the appearance here occasionally of some of the noted men of the world. The price will be made low as to give the people the lecture at cost, but the expense of booking the speaker is large and the support must be liberal, it is said. Should any profit accrue it will be placed in the treasury of the Peoples forum.

"I hope in view of this communication from Stevens Point that our own people will realize as these men do that Stefansson's visit here is not merely another of the usual series of lectures," said Mr. Corbett. "It is an outstanding event for Appleton, because the explorer is world famous, and one of the great contributors to history, literature and science through his daring trips to the Arctic region. It is worth many times the price of his address just to see a man who has achieved such renown."

Lincoln School Children Get City Beautiful Idea

Youngsters Learn Early In Life To Keep Their Property Neat

If Appleton streets and yards ever become free of bits of rubbish and dirt thrown about by careless persons it will be partially due to the efforts of the City Beautiful council of Lincoln school. That the beauty of a city depends upon the extent to which it is kept clean is the inspiring idea of this little group composed of ten pupils of the school, who act as policemen on the school playground and even beyond on the streets and neighborhood yards.

The council was organized four years ago when Appleton Women's club started campaigning for a "City Beautiful." Ten students form the group, two from each grade from the fifth through the eighth, with Miss Jean Jackson, who started the movement, as faculty advisor. The entire work of the group is carried out by the children who supervise all the "pick-up" work themselves. The president, Alice Taylor and the secretary, Jack Schlegel have charge of the executive work of the council, and accurate accounts of each meeting are recorded.

PUNISH CULPRITS

Members of the council keep close watch of the school playground, picking up everything which has no place on it. Scraps of paper, broken glass, fruit skins, wire, bottles and rags and their way into the places placed for the collection of rubbish under the eager hands of the group. Every wrinkled piece of paper, if containing writing is scanned for the name of the culprit who if discovered is taken before the council or otherwise chastized. Sometimes the first name and handwriting are the only clues but usually the student committing the crime is "run down" by the energetic policemen.

Needless to say every student in the school would like to belong to the select group but as only two from each of the four upper grades are picked they must be chosen by the grade with the help of the teacher. Many children ask to be allowed to join the organization. Only the students who do the best work and are reliable however are accepted by the council.

Although the work being done in the way of keeping the grounds clean is great in itself the influence of the group will go much farther, said Miss Jackson. Not only are they interested in making Appleton beautiful but they are learning to cultivate the habits which will someday make possible actual beautification of the city. They are also doing things which are practical and learning to be responsible.

DOOR-CO PETITIONS SCHNEIDER TO WORK FOR NATIONAL PARK

An effort will be made at the coming session of congress to restore the national park of Door-co to the list of national parks. At one time it was under the department of interior, but of late years it has been in charge of the water department, because of its quarry, the stone of which were used by the government in building breakwaters. The park contains 1,000 acres and can be made one of the beauty spots of the country at very little expense. Congressman George J. Schneider has been asked to lend his influence in having it restored for park purposes. Door-co also has a state park of 500 acres.

PLANK REELECTED MEMBER OF WATER BOARD BY COUNCIL

Citizens National Bank Wants
Refund Of Taxes Paid
Under Protest

Joseph J. Plank, chairman of the Appleton water commission, whose term as member of that body had expired Oct. 1, was reelected to office by the common council Wednesday evening. His term is for five years. A reorganization of the water commission was effected last year. Mr. Plank drew the short term. Terms of office will so expire that vacancies will be filled each year in October.

A refund in taxes was petitioned for by the Citizens National bank through its attorney, Mark Castlin. The bank paid its last year's tax on national bank stock under protest on the ground that such stock cannot be taxed. The tax amounted to $940.68. It is foreseen that unless the council authorizes a refund, the bank will begin suit against the city to recover. The petition was referred to finance committee.

Michael Jacobs petitioned for an amendment to the zoning ordinance that would change a part of a block in the Edward West plat, Fourth ward, located at 670 Harrison-st., from a residential to a commercial district so that it would permit operation of a grocery store here.

Another loan of $11,000 was extended to the free high school district which has run short of funds. The money is to be paid back with interest on Feb. 1, 1924.

The council ratified the settlement made by the legal department with the Caleb C. Coon estate for the sum of $750 in compensation for damages done to the Coon property by a huge washout on June 11, 1922.

Chief George T. Prim of the police force submitted a report on the convention of police chiefs he attended in Milwaukee.

PROTEST DUMPING OF RUBBISH ON PRIVATE GROUNDS

Hettinger Lumber Co. Says
Careless People Dump Rubbish In Driveway

The City of Appleton will face a suit for damages unless Appleton residents refrain from throwing rubbish on private property at the Washington ravine, according to members of the street and bridge committee.

It is evident that during the night time persons persist in throwing refuse along the driveway of the Hettinger Lumber company instead of throwing it into the public dumping grounds.

The lumber company has on several occasions protested against the abuse and asked the city to stop it. Police have been stationed there often with orders to arrest the miscreants. But the offences were usually committed at night when no policeman would be about.

These deposits tend to shut off the natural flow of water into the ravine and cause it to wash up the driveway thus entailing expense and trouble for the lumber company.

R. M. Connelly also called attention to the fact that garbage or any other refuse that will decay and cause stench cannot be dumped into the ravine and that those guilty of this offense are subject to arrest. Only rubbish may be deposited there, and it is no inconvenience to persons to go a little further and deposit this in the public dumping grounds rather than leave it on private property, he said.

NAME COMMITTEE TO ISSUE POULTRY BOOK

At a meeting of officers and members of Fox River Poultry and Pet Stock association at George L. Loos' harness shop Wednesday evening, George Lausman, L. F. Bushner, Daniel Leppla and Otto Thessenshuesen were appointed members of a committee to solicit advertisements for the annual premium list. They expect to get started within the next few days.

The contract for furnishing feed for the birds while on exhibition was awarded to F. W. Hauert. It was announced at the meeting that a corn show will be given in connection with the regular poultry show and the state Plymouth Rock show.

West Green Bay Work
Hard For Next Battle

Coach White's String Shows
Up Better This Season Than
For Several Years; Hard Fight In Prospect

Appleton High school's undefeated eleven journeyed to Green Bay Saturday to engage Coach White's West Side High squad in battle here. Coach "Tug" Wilson's boys have won both of their games this season against Manitowish and Fond du Lac, but they themselves admit that with the proper pep they might have made a better showing. Coach Wilson has been working them every day up to the fall of darkness in order to get them in shape for Saturday's meeting, and if they show up as well then as they do in actual practice, they stand a good chance of adding a third victory to their string.

GREEN BAY IS STRONG

West Green Bay has the strongest squad in years, and the return of Coach White after an absence of several years has further contributed to its strength. In spite of the defeat at Sheboygan, the Bays look fully as good as the locals. In that contest, a fumble was chiefly responsible for the loss, and since then the Bays have been put through a system of drill on passes calculated to prevent such costly mistakes in future games. The Baymen met unexpected opposition at De Pere. At times they showed poor judgment in their choice of plays near the DePere goal, but experience will eliminate that lack of perception.

Heavy shots particularly at half on the offense, and will have to be watched in the contest with Appleton. On the defense, Campshire and Clark, ends, and Lund at left tackle made their mark, while the rest of the string appeared to be suffering from the same lassitude that affected the Appleton boys in their battle with the Red and White here.

All indications point to a great improvement in the spirit of both teams, and Saturday's contest promises to be one of the hardest on the local high school's heavy schedule.

FOUR CONFERENCE
GAMES ON BIG TEN
PROGRAM SATURDAY

Purdue And Minnesota Scheduled For Clashes With Wabash And North Dakota

By Associated Press
Chicago—Big Ten football teams held their last active drills Thursday for games Saturday in which eight of the teams will face western conference opponents and two will meet non-conference eleven. Radical changes in lineups and playing tactics were anticipated in a number of camps.

Ohio State which meets Michigan at Ann Arbor was a cause of worry to Coach White after the Freshmen carried the ball across the varsity goal line in eight plays from the forty yard line. The yearlings were using Michigan plays and the Michigan aerial attack with which the Buckeyes believe the Wolverines will try to gain ground.

Illinois has already had its last hard practice for the Iowa game and will leave for Iowa city Thursday night.

Northwestern is bending all its efforts toward its crucial victory over Chicago, Chicago, which is given a large edge on the Northwestern team by many football fans, is sparing no efforts in preparation for the contest. Indiana and Wisconsin, very evenly matched, and both in good condition, meet at Indianapolis in the other conference game of the day.

In the non-conference clashes Purdue and Wabash meet at LaFayette and Minnesota and North Dakota university meet at Minneapolis, the conference teams ruling the favorite in each instance.

HURTS HOLD FOUR BELOIT REGULARS

Coach Mills Handicapped In Preparations For First Midwest Game Here

Beloit—With four regulars still absent from practice with injuries, Coach Tommy Mills has started to round a team into shape for Beloit's first Midwest conference game. The Gold meets Lawrence Saturday at Appleton. The northern team was defeated last week by La Crosse Normal. Beloit won easily from Arcadia, Nelson, fullback, who was injured in the Northwestern university game, will be out for some time. Shaeffer, Robertham and Olson, all veteran linemen, may be able to play on Saturday, although they can not participate in heavy practice routine now. Signal drill has been the major part of practice this week.

'CUB' BUCK MAKES
CHANGES TO TEST
HIS FIRST STRING

Orignon Placed At Guard, Stoll
At Tackle In Practice
Drills

Coach "Cub" Buck has been trying out his first string candidates in various positions to place them where they will do the most good. Orignon is showing up well as guard and Stoll promises to make good as tackle. Remington and Holmes probably will be the ends in Saturday's clash with Beloit, having done their stuff in that position to Buck's satisfaction on the practice field.

The pep meetings among the student body and talks by former Lawrence stars to the student body in general and the gridders in particular have had some effect, and the men are putting more energy into their workouts than they had displayed up to the LaCrosse game here Saturday.

With the exception of Curry, all of the first string men are in good condition physically and most of them will be able to get into the game Saturday if called upon. Goan and Orignon are still somewhat stiff from stretched ligaments and Blackburn's left arm is not working as it should, but all three of these men have turned out regularly for their daily dozen under Buck's watchful eye, and promise well for Saturday. Curry who had been trying out for fullback, was kicked on the back of the neck Tuesday afternoon at drill, and may be out of the game for the rest of the season, as it is feared the injury may have affected one of his vertebrae.

TATE-WILLS MATCH IS PLAN OF TEX RICKARD

New York — Arrangements for a match between Harry Wills, champion negro heavyweight, and Bill Tate, a veteran contender for Wills' honors, are being made by Tex Rickard, promoter. Battling Siki, the Senegalese, asked Rickard on Tuesday to postpone the date of his coming match with Kid Norfolk, American negro, but the promoter refused.

"Kid" Gives Up Post

KID GLEASON

William "Kid" Gleason, pitcher of the Chicago White Sox since 1919, Wednesday handed in his resignation to President Comiskey, who accepted it. Gleason who is 35 years old, has a record of 37 years in the game. His resignation comes as a result of his discouragement at the showing made by his charges and the failure of his attempts to reconstruct the team wrecked with the exposure of the baseball scandal of 1919.

Fullback Plunge Is Hard Play To Stop If Properly Executed

BY ROBERT C. ZUPPKE
Football Coach, University of Illinois,
Author of "Football Technique and Tactics"

The leading back drives ahead through the opening for the secondary. The quarterback takes out wide, or may run straight back with his hands in the air, to momentarily draw the attention of the defense. The pass from center should be a "foater," knee high to hold the fullback down, and directly in front of him. The fullback at the snap of the ball plunges low and hard toward the hole, takes the ball out of the air and crashes into the opening in the quickest possible time.

In all straggle plays it is necessary to reach the line of scrimmage quickly, before opponents can recover and close the hole. The fullback must carry the ball in two hands and hit the line with increasing speed, so that weak attempts at tackling are thrown off.

Some fullbacks have the knack of changing direction either in or out, just as they hit the line, without slackening their speed. This is an added advantage because the correct hole may not have opened, or after several attempts the opponents successfully block the straight smash, but leave an opening to the right or left.

Next comes Play No. 4, a hidden ball play.

NOTRE DAME PLAYS GAIN
ON PRINCETON REGULARS

By Associated Press
Princeton, N. J.—Employing plays used by Notre Dame in its previous game, the "Omelettes," Princeton's scrub eleven, made seven touchdowns in practice Wednesday against the Varsity, and the underdog team hopes began to diminish that Princeton would beat the Indiana university in their inter-sectional game on Saturday.

The Varsity also scored three touchdowns, but this was more due to the weakness of the scrub defense than to any fault of the imitation of the Indians' attacking ideas.

Return Match Between Quinn And Devine Is In Prospect For Here

Local Fight Fans Agitating For
Encore, And For Boya-Church
Bout During Coming Winter

Fight fans of the Fox River valley are still discussing the respective merits of "Gunner" Joe Quinn of St. Paul and Bob Devine of Chicago, who put up one of the best fights ever seen in Appleton when they clashed here Oct. 14. Immediately after the battle, Mike Gibbons and Leo Fornicari, their managers, got together, and Fornicari, boss of the fighting Scotchman, proposed a return bout here some time this winter, claiming that his protegee was not in the best of form, and that with the proper training he could stop Quinn. Devine had not fought for some time previous to his engagement with the Gunner, he said, and on the day of the fight had been forced to melt five pounds of superfluous fat which had accumulated during his period of inactivity. In spite of that, all those who witnessed the fight agree that he put up the best battle one might expect from any fighter in his class, and Quinn's victory was not won without plenty of hard work and more hard blows for both of the scrappers.

CONSIDERS RETURN MATCH
Gibbons was doubtful as to the advisability of staging the next battle here owing to the small crowd at the Oct. 14 card, but of later was persuaded that the apparent lack of interest was due to a number of other attractions which happened to fall on the same evening, and indicated that he would consider sending his charge here again in the not too far distant future.

Young Church of Green Bay is also the subject of much talk here. Appleton fans will be glad to hear that Dick Boya, the local boy who was given the decision over Church on a foul July 4, has changed his mind about leaving the fight game for good, and is putting in several hours each week training for his next bout, in which he hopes to square things with the Green Bay boy, "Frenchy" Londo of Oconto looked good as long as he lasted in his battle with Church, but the crowd undoubtedly would have preferred to see Boya in the squared circle with the Green Bay boy. The two are about evenly matched, and are good drawing cards in the Fox river valley. Boya's only disadvantage appears to be a weak spot in his back, and his present workout are calculated to remedy that. If the two meet again, it is possible that Young Church will get the surprise of his life. At any rate, the majority of fans here are of the opinion that Boya can beat the Green Bay boy, and no one in Appleton would shed a tear if that little thing would be done and done well.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

"Kid" Gleason, has given up the ghost as the White Sox helmsman. He filed his resignation with Owner Comiskey and turned down the proposal to "carry on" for another season. It is a well known fact that Gleason was much disappointed with the showing of the Sox this year and that he felt that the club should have figured much higher up in the race.

Harry Heilmann, champion swimmer in the American league, must be a pretty good insurance salesman. He even peddles risks to his diamond enemies. During the past season, Ruth and Heilmann were fighting it neck and neck for batting honors. Heilmann won and his first money after getting back in the insurance game was to sign up Ruth to a $50,000 policy.

The conference football schedule for Saturday is classy enough to satisfy the appetite of the most rabid fan. Four games are booked and each one of them should be a stellar exhibition of the gridiron pastime. Indiana plays Wisconsin; Michigan tackles Ohio; Illinois has it out with Iowa, while Chicago and Northwestern will stage their annual neighborly row.

Another bomb shell has dropped in the Wisconsin Intercollegiate Athletic association circles. Following charges made by Carl Sangster, former Edgerton football coach, the Edgerton school has been banned from scholastic competition for one year. Sangster claims that "bolesse" cases of ineligibility were practiced at the Edgerton school under the sole supervision and authority of Superintendent Holt, who is chairman of the W. I. A. A. Of course, as yet, we haven't heard Holt's story but he will have to do some talk explaining to get his foot out of the mud.

Reports from West Green Bay here indicate that Coach White is putting his string of High school grid stars through a period of intensive drill in preparation for the invasion of Coach David "Tug" Wilson's charges Saturday. Despite their 7 to 6 victory over DePere last week, the Green Bay men were said to be way off form in that game. The local high school men also showed lack of aggressiveness, and Coach Wilson's workouts are calculated to instill the missing pep into his charges.

GLEASON GIVES UP
POST AS MANAGER OF CHICAGO CLUB

"Kid," 38, Resigns Because He Is Discouraged With Showing Of Charges

Chicago—William Kid Gleason, the fiery manager of the Chicago White Sox since 1919, resigned on Wednesday, making the fourth managerial position to be filled in the American league before the opening of the 1924 season.

The 38 year old pilot, with a record of thirty-seven years in baseball resigned, he said, because he was discouraged with his attempts to reconstruct the club, wrecked with the exposure of the world's series scandal with Cincinnati in 1919.

He set about to rebuild the club when the players who participated in the "frame up" were dropped, but in the three seasons that have passed, Gleason's fighting spirit alone carried him through as he had little success in the development of a new team.

"I've given the best that's in me, and the boys did the best they know how," Gleason said Wednesday night, "but we did not seem to be able to see anywhere. A change often works wonders so I decided to step out and give somebody else a chance."

NO HINT ON SUCCESSOR
There has been no hint from President Comiskey of the White Sox, as to the successor of the grizzled veteran, Eddie Collins, second base star, whose injury in mid season contributed to converting the club from a second place contender to a second division club, may be in line for the management. Ray Shaik, regarded as the premier catcher of the league, also may be given consideration along with Harry Hooper, Big Ed Walsh, of spit ball fame, who has been assistant to Gleason, also may be among the possibilities President Comiskey may consider.

Gleason has been with the Sox for eleven years in the capacity of coach and manager. He came to the club during the days of Jimmy Callahan, remained a couple of seasons, and then quit, returning again in 1916. He and Clarence Rowland to lift the club out of second division. He remained throughout the 1917 season, when the Sox won the world's championship, but through some misunderstanding failed to report the next year. After the close of the race he was offered the management of the club.

STUDENT OF OLD SCHOOL

Gleason, a student of the old school, learned baseball while member of the famous Baltimore Orioles and still carries on the teachings of the old master—fight and never give up.

The resignation of Gleason, leaves Chicago, Boston, Washington and possibly St. Louis, without managers for next season. In baseball circles it is believed Gleason will be back in the American league next year as leader of one of these clubs. There seems to be no assurance that George Sisler will be physically able to resume the management of the Browns next season, and there have been persistent reports that Ty Cobb desires to relinquish the reigns as leader of the Detroit club, but remain as a player.

JIM CROWLEY STARS FOR NOTRE DAME IN VICTORY OVER ARMY

Former Green Bay Man Developed To Stellar Role By Coach Rockne

East Green Bay High school may well pat itself on the back when it contemplates the success of Jim Crowley, grid star on its 1920 team, who has assured himself a stellar position on the Notre Dame first string this season. In the Indiana school's defeat of the Army last Saturday, Crowley played the most prominent part as half back. Two of his runs gained 59-yards for Notre Dame and the rest of his play was on a par with that success.

A Notre Dame scribe has this to say of him:

Notre Dame, Ind. — "Notre Dame folk, even the more hopeful ones, expected a poor season this year. Confident of Coach Rockne's ability to develop men they felt, at the same time, that it was not humanly possible for a man to completely rebuild an eleven in a few weeks. As for the halcyon days of George Gipp, Paul Castner and Johnny Mohardt—the fans believed them over for a time."

"But Rockne not only whipped a winning team out of the ruins and new lumber but he developed in Jim Crowley a worthy successor to these heroes. "Crowley's all around playing was one of the brilliant features of the victory over the army. Two sensational runs of thirty-seven and fifteen yards by him placed the westerners in

INDIANA BATTLE
WILL BE BADGERS'
FIRST REAL TEST

Wisconsin Gridders Won Both
Prelims By Physical Superiority

Madison — The Badger grid team is either to meet with dismal results in the conference tilt or it will have earned the title of being a team of mystery. So far it has shown nothing. There have been few players who show head work and they won both preliminary games because of physical superiority.

The team on Tuesday was kept at work on signal drills and it is predicted by those close to the coaching staff that the team will have real plays when its Indiana at Bloomington on Saturday. Unless the line improves materially from its apparently weak condition against mediocre teams, the stars in the backfield will be forced to play the game with little support.

Coach Jack Ryan will put in the entire week attempting to get smoother action of the Badgers in executing plays. The workout on Tuesday consisted chiefly in running through signal practice. These close to the team's management predict that during the last days of the week the team will be given new plays and they will be brought into use in the first conference game of the season against Indiana at Bloomington on Saturday.

The Badgers will open at Bloomington with the strongest backfield that has been in the field so far this year. They will hold down the bullback position. Harris, with his plunging ability, will be at half. While the first team is devoting its times to perfecting plays, the second string team is getting more than its share of scrimmaging against the All-Americans.

a position to score their second touchdown and he added one point with a pretty goal after the touchdown.

"Looming up with Crowley this season is Layden, fullback. He not only does most of the punting but is the star in Rockne's deceptive attack and plays a good defensive game. He and Crowley make one of the most perfect forward pass combinations ever. Layden has seen this year. It was a beautiful pass from Crowley to Layden that gave the Notre Dame team its opening score against the soldier lads. "Rockne's boys may meet disaster before the season ends but that victory over the army has sounded the warning that Notre Dame is on its way to the heights at which it soared for years."

It was easier than it looked. His movements came very well. Steadily gaining confidence, he walked at a faster pace. The slope was not much on this side, the glacier ending in an abrupt cliff many hundred feet in height, so he felt little need of special precaution. It was, in fact, the easiest walking that he had since his arrival upon the island, so he decided not to turn off clear until he reached the high ground just to one side of the ice cliff. He crawled down a series of shelves, picked his way about a jagged promontory, and detached up at last at the edge of a dark crevice scarcely 50 feet from the edge of the snow.

The crevice was not much over five feet wide at this point and hundreds of feet long. It ended in a snow-bank. But there was no need of following it down. He could leap it at a standing jump, with a running start he could bound ten feet beyond. He was tired, eager to get to camp—and this was the zero hour. He drew back three paces, preparatory to making the leap.

All the wilderness world seemed to be straining—listening. The man leaped forward.

At that instant the North gave him some sign of its power. His first jumping step was firm, but at the second his foot slipped. He pitched forward on his hands and knees, grasping at the hard, slippery ice.

He slid rather slowly, with that sickening helplessness that so often characterizes the events of a tragic dream; and the wilderness seemed still to be waiting, watching, in unutterable indignation. Then he pitched forward into the crevice.

He was not to die at once. There was still hope of life. He fetched up, as if by a miracle, on an icy shelf ten feet below the mouth of the crevice—with sheer walls rising on each side.

Ned knew what fear was, well enough, as he lay in the darkness, chasm, staring up at the white line of the crevice above him.

The shelf on which he had fallen was scarcely wider than his body, and only because it projected at an upward incline from the sheer wall had he come to rest upon it. It was perhaps 50 feet long, practically on a level all the way. The wall was sheer, for ten feet above him, beyond the shelf was only the impenetrable darkness of the crevice, extending apparently into the bowels of the earth.

Very cautiously, in imminent danger of pitching backward into the abyss, he climbed to his feet. He was a tall man, but his hands reaching up did not come within two feet of the ledge. And there was nothing whatever for his hands to cling to.

If only there were irregularities in the ice. With a surge of hope he thought of his axe.

This rock, however, had either fallen into the crevice or had dropped from his shoulder and lay on the ice above. But there remained his clasp knife. He drew it carefully from his pocket.

Already he felt the icy chill of the glacier stealing through him, the cold fingers of death itself. He must lose no time in going to work. He began to cut, two feet above the ledge, a sharp-edged hole in the ice.

He finished the cut at last, then started on another a foot above. He hewed out a foothold with great care. He did not forget that the hand-holds, to which his fingers must cling, were yet to be made. They had to be finished with even greater skill than the footholds. Very wisely, he turned to them next.

He made the first of them as high as he could reach. Then he put one in about a foot below. Three more footholds were put in at about 12-inch intervals between.

Placing the knife between his teeth, he put the moose-horn into the first foothold and pulled himself up. It did not take long, however, to convince him that the remaining work bordered practically on the impossible. These holes in the ice were not like irregularities in stone. The fingers slipped over them; it was almost impossible to cling on with both hands, much less one. But clinging with all his might, he tried to free his right hand to procure his knife.

He made it at last, and as a frightful cry of nervous energy resounded in cutting some sort of gasp in the icy wall above his head. Standing so close he could not look up, it was impossible to do more than back out a ragged hole. And because life lay this way and no other he put the blade once more between his teeth, reached his right hand into the hole, and tried to pull himself up again. But faster, better and complete, followed that attempt. His numbing hands failed to hold under the strain, and he slipped all the way back to his shelf. Something rang sharply against the ice wall, far below him. He did not hear it again, but the truth went home to him on one despairing instant. Try as he had, he could not save himself. His hands had released their hold upon the knife, and it had fallen into the depths of the crevice below.

XXV
Bess had made good time along her line that day. She had not forgotten that this was the day of her rendezvous with Ned, and by walking swiftly, eschewing even short rests, carrying her larger trophies to the cabin to skin rather than balancing and changing them out over a fire, she arrived at the Frecks hut after midnight. She began at once to make preparations for Ned's coming. She built a roaring fire in the little rusted stove, knowing well the blessing it would be to the tired trapper, coming in with his load of furs. She started supper so that the hot meal would be ready upon his arrival. Then she began to watch the hillside for his coming.

On the glare ice of the glacier, a mile straight up the ridge from the cabin, she saw the figure of a man. It was Ned, of course, taking the perilous path over the ice, instead of keeping to the blazed trail of his trap line. On the slight downward slope toward her, clearly outlined against the white ice, she could see every step he took.

He was walking boldly over the glassy surface. Didn't he know its treacherous, the danger of slipping on the icy shelves and falling to his death, the deep crevice shunned by the wild creatures? She watched every step with anxious gaze. When he was almost to where she saw him stop, draw back a few paces, and then come forward at a faster pace.

What happened then? She came too fast for her eyes to follow. One instant she saw his form distinctly as he ran. The next, and the ice lay white and bare in the wan light, and Ned had disappeared as if by a magician's magic.

For one moment she gazed in growing horror. There was no ice promontory behind which he was hidden, nor did he reappear again. And peering closely, she made out a faint, dark line, like a pencil mark on the ice, just where Ned had disappeared.

She turned into the cabin, bent, and added fresh fuel to the stove. Its heat scorched her face, and she put up her hands to shield it. The cabin should be warm, when she brought Ned home. She mustn't let the cold creep in. She must not forget the cold, always watching for every little opening. Perhaps he would want food, too; she glanced into the iron pot on the stove. Then, acting more by instinct than by conscious thought, she began to look about for such tools as she would need in the work to follow.

There was a piece of rope, used once on a hand sled, hanging on the wall, but it was only about eight feet in length. Surely it was not long enough to aid her, yet it was all she had. Next, she removed a blanket from her cot and threw it over her shoulder. There might be need of this, too—further protection against the cold.

Heretofore she had moved slowly, hardly aware of her own acts; but now she was beginning to master herself again. She mustn't linger here, she must make her spirit, waken to life, her muscles spring to action. Carrying her rope and her blanket, she went out the door, closed it behind her, started up toward the glacier.

At last she stood at the very edge of the yawning seam, staring down into the unutterable blackness below. Not even light could enter in the murky depths of the crevice, much less fragile human life. The day was not yet dead, night was still gray about her, but the crevice itself seemed full of ink clear to its mouth. And Ned's axe, lying at the edge of the chasm, showed where he had fallen.

Sour Milk Bath Will Take Rust From Cutlery

To clean rusty knives, drop them into thick sour milk and let remain overnight. In the morning they can be cleaned very easily.

The source of removing a grease spot from silk without any ring or shadow remaining, is to rub French chalk on the wrong side of the goods. Put away for a few hours, then brush off the chalk and apply it again on the back of the spot if necessary. The powder absorbs the grease and leaves the surface of the fabric as good as new.

When you wish to mend a slightly worn tablecloth, use an embroidery hoop. In this way it can be mended by using threads drawn from the linen itself.

To mend hot-water bottles, clean the torn place with gasoline. Place a piece of vulcanizing rubber over the hole with glue on it. Then put a hot iron on the rubber and let remain overnight. This will make your bottle like new.

Never pick up tiny pieces of glass with the fingers. Wet a woolen cloth and put it over the glass particles which will then cling to the cloth. Burn the cloth.

When making lemon pies, let the filling get cool before putting in the pastry shell and you will find that it will not run as it does when it is put in hot.

Never leave a metal spoon in anything you wish to heat quickly as the heat runs up the spoon, thus requiring a longer time to heat the food.

To remove fresh shellac from a brush, rub a small quantity of borax well into the bristles. Then wash in soap and water. The same treatment will remove shellac from the hands.

To loosen rusty screws, hold a red-hot poker on the head of the screw for two or three minutes. It can then be easily removed with a screw driver.

When a casserole becomes loose fill the hole with putty, then insert the stem of the casserole in the soft putty. When the putty becomes hard it will hold firmly.

The common nut-cracker makes a splendid household wrench to remove the tops from cans and bottles with screw tops. Even glass stoppers will yield to it.

When hanging small curtains over doors and windows and you haven't any rod, use narrow elastic. It prevents sagging.

If you use an oil-stove and should turn too high that you can not turn down again, throw a handful of salt on the flame. It will go out at once.

To prevent a rocker from moving along on a carpet when rocking, paste a narrow strip of old velvet on each rocker.—From The Designer Magazine.

NO END OF FUN IF HALLOWE'EN GAMES LIKE THESE ARE USED

THE PHOTO ABOVE ALSO SUGGESTS COSTUMES FOR HALLOWE'EN

BY SISTER MARY
Hallowe'en usually reveals the "Peter Pan" in all of us.

For the old-fashioned games of our ancestors continue to charm and interest.

Apple bobbing, apple paring, nut naming and innuendoes simple old tricks are means of fun and require no great outlay of money.

To bob apples, fill a tub or shallow pan with clear water. The tub should not be more than two-thirds full of water. Carve the initials of the girls on fine red apples and place in tub. The men "bob" for the apples, capturing them with their teeth. The initials are those of their future wives.

The apple paring game is played by both men and girls. Each person pares an apple, making the paring as long as possible. This is swung over the head three times and then dropped over the right shoulder. If the paring remains unbroken and forms an initial, the initial is that of the thrower's fate.

NUTS
Naming nuts is fun when a wood fire burns in a fireplace. Each girl is given three chestnuts. These she names for her three "best boys" so to speak, and then the nuts burn or "pop" so will the lover declare his regard. Some nuts gently burst open that the gentleman will "pop the nut" with a lovely little pop. This means "question" in the most approved manner.

Another nut test is tried to determine the "true love." Three nuts are named, as in the first game. The nut that cracks in this case means a fickle lover. The one that burns with a buzz is the one who is snoring like a buzz saw.

But the lightning bug was worried. He'd wasted so much electricity on his way from Pee Wee Land that he hadn't a speck left and his light had gone out. And how or when he was he ever going to get. Tiny Mite back to Pee Wee Land when his nap was over. Besides, the real moon had come from behind the cloud and Tiny Mite would know he had been fooled.

"Oh, oh! What'll I do?" said the lightning bug. Then all at once he noticed something. It was getting near daylight when moon flowers shone themselves up night. And Tiny Mite's particular flower had started to turn itself slowly round and round, all the time getting bigger and bigger like a screw.

"Oh, said the bug, 'I'll let him stay there and he can't get out till tomorrow night. I'll have time to go home for more electricity.'

When Tiny Mite woke up, there he was. Tigger 'n' a wad of cotton in a gun.

"Let me out! Let me out!" he yelled, pounding and pounding. "The moon's closed up on me and I'm hungry and want to come home."

Who should come along just then, but Nancy and Nick.

And they heard him. They'd been hunting for ever so long, for Tiny Mite's head hadn't been heard in and his mother was worried sick.

"So this is where you are!" cried Nancy, pulling open the moon-flower and letting Tiny Mite out.

"You'd better stay in Pee Wee Land, where you belong," said Nick. (To Be Continued)

YELLOW EFFECTIVE
Yellow is used most effectively this fall in millinery and in gowns. The all yellow crepe frock, headed with a row of rhinestones, is one of the best things designers have to offer for evening.

SAUCY-HATS
Knitted hats, with saucy, upturned brims, accompany some of the most fashionable sweaters for fall.

consuming blaze means a love for the lady fair, but one which vanishes out before aught can come of it and burns steadily foretells a faithful husband.

ORACLES
The Delphic Oracle provides much amusement. Some member of the party should be stationed in a dark corner. Let him stand on a box to increase his height, shroud him in a sheet and let him hold a sack of lentils on his head. The Oracle can answer only yes or no to questions asked, but the vehemence with which she nods or shakes her head can be very expressive. One of the tin pumpkin lanterns is easier to handle than a real pumpkin.

A gypsy fortune teller in a shock of corn can tell the future by reading palms or cards. She provides a very decorative touch as well as much fun.

And speaking of the decorative touch, there is nothing more effective than corn stalks and autumn leaves and vines simply arranged. Pumpkins and vegetables of all sorts can be used for candle sticks. And as far as possible let the lights be candles.

MORE SPOOKS
More than likely the small boys of the neighborhood will quite unconsciously add to the spookiness of the party by dictating the windows and throwing corn at irregular intervals.

A sheet and pillow case party is always fun and most appropriate for Hallowe'en. When everyone is masked, the game is much harder to guess who's who than when the very choice of the costume itself often proclaims the masquerader.

The very atmosphere of autumn speaks success for a Hallowe'en party and, with nuts and apples and pumpkin pie and cider during the evening, 10 or 20 young men and girls are sure to have a jolly time in playing informal games.

far from manufacturing zones. The remote areas are naturally small and the cost of production and marketing is greater than in the great beds in the bays and river of the more accessible parts of the coast.

The food value of oysters is high. They are easily digested and very nutritious.

During the season there is no better first course for a formal dinner than raw oysters, served on the half shell with lemon juice or with a cocktail sauce.

If served with a sauce the oysters are thoroughly called and served in cocktail glasses with the sauce poured over them.

OYSTER COCKTAIL
Six or seven small oysters for each cocktail, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon tomato catsup, 1 teaspoon minced celery, 1/2 teaspoon minced green pepper, 2 drops Tabasco sauce, 1/4 teaspoon salt, few gratings nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon horseradish root.

Chill oysters. Mix ingredients and chill. Pour over oysters in glasses. Serve at once.

This sauce is also served in a small glass in the center of a plate of oysters on the half shell. Each oyster is dipped in the sauce as it is eaten.

In serving oysters on the shell care should be taken that each oyster is loosened and free in the shell.

OYSTER COCKTAIL II
Four oysters for each serving, 2 sections of grapefruit, 3 drops onion juice, 1/4 teaspoon minced celery, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, salt, nutmeg, paprika.

Cut grapefruit in half and scoop out pulp with a strong teaspoon. Use four pieces of grapefruit for each cocktail. Add onion juice, celery, salt and nutmeg and chill. Chill oysters. Mix and sprinkle with paprika. Serve very cold.

LACE JABOTS
Lace jabots are used most effectively on the newest frocks, particularly those of satin or satin-faced crepe.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT, CONTINUED

There is one thing for which I have to thank Jack's mother. I do get so much comfort out of you, dear little Marcuse, who only beside myself may hold the key to this secret drawer. I wonder how Mrs. Prescott found it in her heart to part with this beautiful desk.

Now for a great secret. I have found out that Ruth Ellington's heart has not grown cold. It has merely grown for itself a kind of prickly cocoon, something that will protect its warmth and youth from the knowledge of the world.

After we had tried on nearly every hat in town and had a most beautiful time, I invited Ruth—I have begun to call her Ruth by this time—to go with me to the smartest tea place in town.

Before we went in, we both doled ourselves up a little in the ladies' dressing room and I knew the same thought came to each of us as we entered. "We were quite the best looking women in the room."

"Society women, Leslie," said Ruth, "always look so bored."

I did not have the heart to tell her that the night before I thought she looked bored to death, for today she was bright and happy and a gay little butterfly floating about the flowers.

I could not help wondering just what made her appear so differently when her husband was with her.

"Perhaps," she continued, "it is because most women who are rich enough to lunch and tea at a place like this are society women, that men always seem to think we are bored with each other. Always one feels rather sorry when one sees a group of women dining without a man and one has no such ideas about a group of men. And yet I feel today that women can enjoy each other and do enjoy each other more than men enjoy each other."

Before I thought, dear little Marcuse, I said, "Yes, you are having a better time today than you did last night, aren't you, Ruth?"

Ruth blushed and then she owned up honestly, "I am. I have reached a place where I am not myself in Harry's company. I wonder if you have been married long enough, Leslie, to have earned the making-over process."

"What do you mean by that, Ruth? Do all married women have to be made over?"

"If you don't know," she answered ambiguously, "you haven't entered it yet."

"Leslie, I was the gayest girl in my set, always laughing, always dancing and if the truth must be known, always coquetting more or less. That was the girl my husband, Harry Ellington, fell in love with and married."

"Immediately he started to make me over. The first thing he found out was that I smiled too much. 'A woman who is always laughing when she talks with other men is apt to be misunderstood,' he said.

"Then he insisted that his wife should not dance the new dances with other men, as he did not care very much about dancing himself. I found myself sitting on the sidelines with the dowagers and women old enough to be my mother.

"I have almost ceased to go out with the young people that I used to

Provides For Her Livelihood By Batik Work

New York — Banks may be a bad to some, but to Hannah Orsek they are decidedly worth while.

From an artist interested in the unusual and colorful, wondering where the next morning's rent was coming from, Miss Orsek has developed into a business woman, operating on a large scale, wondering where to get enough employees.

Her skill in originating designs at once bizarre and subtle have made her work distinctive, but it is of her knack of producing harmony out of a medley of colors that she attributes her success.

"I believe many women have lost their color instinct because they have worn dark colors so long," she says. "For instance, it is a common belief that blonds can't wear red."

PROPER COLORS
"On the contrary, I find the rich tones of red give to the blond the fire and color that is lacking in her temperament and they clash with the dark woman."

The one color that is universally becoming is green—in some tone or other. Yet comparatively few women wear it, while blue, which is the most trying color there is except in the navy, is regarded as the color every woman can wear."

THE RIGHT GUIDE
Your color should match your temperament instead of your eyes, she believes. Hence, only sparkly, peppy people should wear yellow. She believes we should take our color schemes from the seasons.

"In the fall nothing is more appropriate than the russets, browns, reds and yellows of the autumn foliage, while in the spring we turn instinctively to the colors that suggest life and hope and a new fresh outlook," she goes on. "If we followed nature's lead we would never be out of key with our surroundings."

so with and the tragedy of it all is that Harry doesn't love me at all, now that I am made over. Yet he doesn't know why he doesn't like me. 'He makes all sorts of excuses to go out without me.'

"He wants the same joyous irresponsible fun that we used to have together, the joy he will not let me give him. So he goes to some other girl to get it, never dreaming that perhaps there might be some man just over there in the office who might tell me that he would rather love me than arms than worship me on a pedestal."

TOMORROW—The letter continued —A surprise for Ruth Ellington.

BROCADED SLIPPER
The brocaded slipper is sure of a long run, and is appearing in the most gorgeous fabrics. Sometimes it is combined with a plain color, just to heighten its charm.

Why Girls Are not prettier—why women grow old By Edna Wallace Hopper

I was a plain girl, but I made myself a famous beauty. I have reached the age of 62, but I keep my youthful looks. Countless young girls envy my hair and my complexion.

No ordinary beauty helps ever did, or ever will, bring such results to women. I searched the world for the best helps in existence. I spent a fortune to obtain them. To them I owe all that beauty and perennial youth have meant in my career.

Now I have placed those identical helps at your call. To girls they mean multiplied beauty, to women, continued youth. I urge you to let them bring to you what they brought to me.

The Great Mistakes
Millions of women seeking beauty and youth use unscientific helps. Now I bring you the best helps in existence.

Clay is a beauty essential. No girl can look her best without it. No woman can keep her youth. But not the crude and muddy clays so many still employ. A super-clay has been perfected by 20 years of scientific study. It is white, refined and dainty. It is ten times more effective than the ordinary clays.

I call this my White Youth Clay. Many women, with one use, seem to drop ten years. It brings a rosy, clear complexion. It removes the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles. My White Youth Clay will amaze and delight you. I urge you to see what it does. The cost is 50 cents and $1.

Scientific Creams
Women use creams which no great expert in the world could sanction. I made a world-wide search to get the best creams in existence.

One is my Youth Cream—a cold cream. It contains both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that science knows to soften, feed and foster the skin texture.

I use it after the clay. Also as a night cream, also daytimes as a powder base. Never is my skin without it. I want you to learn what Youth Cream means to you. It costs only 50 cents.

My Facial Youth is a liquid cleanser which I found in France. Great beauty experts the world over now employ it. It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. But it cleans to the depths, and removes from the skin all the dirt and refuse which nothing else can reach.

You will know for the first time what a clean skin means when you apply my Facial Youth. The cost is 75 cents.

Hair You Marvel At
Millions marvel at my luminous hair. It is thick and lustrous—finer than 40 years ago. Falling hair, dandruff and gray hair have never come to me.

This is also due to Franco. She perfected my Hair Youth. I apply it daily with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. It does not muss the hair. It cleans the scalp, stimulates and fertilizes. Then the hair roots flourish and bring the results I show.

If you wish like hair, use this method—the best that science knows. My Hair Youth costs 50 cents and $1 with eye dropper.

All druggists and retail counters supply these preparations. Nothing else in all the world can bring you like results. Go try them. Let them bring you what they brought to me. Edna Wallace Hopper. Business address, Waukegan, Wis.

Note: Miss Hopper is now appearing twice daily in the Pantages Theaters of the Pacific coast and western states. adv.

JOB SHORTAGE THREATENS MEN OF FOX VALLEY

Cold Weather Ends Outside Construction Work And Sends Men To Cities

Fearing a surplus of labor, working men who have been employed at seasonal jobs this summer are seeking to return to the cities. The movement of labor which was quite free in the paper mills between June and September has practically come to a standstill, and possessors of steady jobs are holding on tight.

Several of the large employers of labor are inclined to believe the unemployment situation in this vicinity will develop into what may be a real crisis this winter. A building contractor expressed the opinion that the coming winter will reveal more jobless homes than have been seen here for the last 15 years.

A less pessimistic view is taken by practically all of the other employers interviewed. While some of them concede that employment will not be as plentiful as last winter, they do not expect an acute shortage of jobs. One even declared that the situation would be little different from that of last winter.

"ARMY" IS GROWING
One thing is certain, however—the army of unemployed if it may be called an army, is continually growing. The cessation of concrete construction work on roads in this county and vicinity, the close of summer farm work and the slackening up of building activities are sending more and more men back to the cities in search of work.

Work on some of the larger construction jobs in Appleton probably will be in progress all winter. The lowest bridge will not be completed until close to Christmas. A winter's work is in prospect on the Cherry-st. bridge, as is also the case of the Masonic temple and the Riverside Fibre and Paper company new building.

Construction work on other mills is nearing a close. Road construction and maintenance crews of the county highway department which number about 250 men still have several weeks work left. The city street department employees will be decreased shortly.

MORE MEN THAN JOBS
The free employment bureau at the Y. M. C. A. now has more applications than jobs, which is quite the reverse of last summer, when some firms were suffering from a labor shortage. Very few men are now being booked from that office. Jobsseekers are flocking to one of the construction jobs of a large building concern at the rate of from 30 to 35 a day.

Most of the paper mills are not operating at full strength. One of the larger mills is at present operating at about 60 per cent of its capacity. Low water has been hampering ground wood pulp mills of the valley which are largely dependent upon water power, and are receiving strong competition from steam power mills not located on water power.

HERO

Hiding Anderson is only 13 but he's every inch a hero and credited with saving 33 lives. Headless of his own cancer, when flames enveloped the Augustana home in Minneapolis he dashed through the burning building spreading alarm and carrying many of the child inmates to safety.

Most refreshing tales ever unfolded on the screen.

And the whimsical humor and touching flashes of pathos that have distinguished past screen performances of this big-eyed little star are stronger than ever in "Circus Days."

More than that, "Circus Days" is a picture for the whole wide world to love and enjoy at the Elite today, Friday and Saturday.

THE MIRACLE BABY

A frenzied pursuit across the snows. A girl and man on the brink of death as their sled goes skidding over a towering precipice. The girl safe in the arms of the hero as he rides up on his horse from behind and snatches her from the swaying vehicle while the villain goes sliding over the bluff to death.

This briefly describes one of the stirring scenic climaxes of "The Miracle Baby," Harry Carey's latest F. B. O. attraction, now at the Majestic theater. Based on Frank Pierce's swiftness of the big snows, which appeared in the American Magazine and adapted by Messrs. Bernstein and Jaccard, "The Miracle Baby" has all these elements of rugged drama and glowing romance, leavened here and there by the choicest comedy touches ever shown on the screen.

Action, however, is the vital keynote of the story. Besides the thrilling scene in which the sleigh is pitched over a precipice with Edward Hearn, as the villain, in it, there is another smashing episode in which Carey and Hearn fight a duel with pistols while struggling for possession of the girl, impersonated by Margaret Landis. Others in the cast are Charles J. LeMay, Hedda Nova, Edmund Cobb, Alfred Allen, Bert Sprunt and others. Val Paul directed.

ON THE SCREEN

A ROMANCE YOU WILL GLORY IN

A new Zane Grey picture, produced by Benjamin B. Hampton and released by Goldwyn, "When Romance Rides," founded upon Grey's most popular novel "Wildfire," is coming to the New Bijou theatre Friday and Saturday. The picture is a thriller interspersed with lively comedy. The great horse race alone will give spectators their money's worth, but not satisfied with that, Producer Hampton staged for the film one of the most desperate struggles between a girl and a man ever filmed.

A half-witted man, Joel Creech, thinks Lucy Beeth has injured him and kidnaps her. To feed his revenge, he ties her to the back of a horse and sends the horse straight for a precipice. He himself is caught by a dangling rope and dragged to his death and the girl is rescued by Carl Garwood. In the role of Lin Stone, a rancher.

Mr. Hampton's cast contains some of the most famous names in the film world. Claire Adams, Carl Garwood and Jean Harlow are featured. Others in the cast are Frank Ely, Tod Sloan, the Jockey, Marie Mary Jane, Irving, Harry L. Van Meter, Charles Arling, Babe London and Walter Perkins.

JACKIE COOGAN IN BIG CIRCUS PICTURE GIVES SCREEN GREATEST WORK

Jackie Coogan is with us again and best of all he returns in what may truly be called the most delightful vehicle of his screen career—a rollicking circus picture.

The wiseful little figure on "My Boy" and "Daddy" is given a part in the First National picture, "Circus Days", that seems better suited to his talents than anything else he has done for the silent drama.

Proof of this was amply manifested by the tremendous enthusiasm with which the audience greeted the picture on its opening yesterday at the Elite theatre.

"Circus Days," as presented by Sol Lesser, is a picture of circus life. It is an adaptation of James Oles' celebrated story, "Toby Trier or Ten Weeks With a Circus," filmed under the masterful direction of Eddie Cline. Jackie plays the stellar role of Toby Trier, a youngster who, with his adored mother, is forced to live on the farm of a hard-hearted uncle. Driven to desperation, Toby runs away from home to join a circus. How he rises from a peanut merchant of the "big top" to be a star of the sawdust ring, bringing happiness and prosperity to his mother is one of the

UTILITIES CHANGE ATTITUDE TO PUBLIC

Wisconsin Commissioner Says Biggest Aim Now Is To Serve The People

Atlantic City—"A great victory for the public," is the way Lewis E. Gettle, chairman of the Wisconsin Railroad commission, in his address before the convention of the American Gas association here Thursday looks upon the spirit-to-serve attitude which public utility companies are showing toward the people. This attitude, he said, already is benefiting the people as well as the utilities themselves.

"The spirit of public service dominating these national conventions of public utility executives," he said, "is a far cry from the secret sessions and selfish spirit of the old days when boards of directors were apparently chiefly concerned with extorting as large a tribute from the public with as little service as possible."

"From the tone of this convention and the convention of the electric railway men last month, where most of the sessions have been taken up with ways to improve service, in place of discussions of methods to increase dividends or salaries, one can scarcely fail to be convinced that the spirit of most public utilities today is the public be pleased and served. It seems that utility men have learned that by serving the public well, they will also serve their companies best."

Painful Rheumatic Swellings Disappear

Discoverer Tells Druggists Not To Take A Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allenrin Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called ALLENRHU, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense ALLENRHU with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment. Schlitz Bros. Co., Voigt's Drug Store can supply you.
